URGE VOTE ON SHOALS BILL THIS WEEK

Senate Leaders Expect to Have Measure Passed by Christmas Recess

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Passage of the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill would make "Teapot Dome look like a pinhead," Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, charged in the Senate today.
"If this bill is enacted," Norris said, "it will be known as a raid upon the treasury, a gold brick to the farmers and the giving away of a great inheritance of the American people to some private corporation, a concession, so great, indeed, that it will make Teapot Dome look like a pinhead."

For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Having thus far successfully repulsed all attacks, Senate administration leaders today began a spirited offensive to pass the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill before the Christmas recess next Saturday.
Their chief hope was to get the bill in conference before the holidays so conferees would have ample time to iron out differences between the two houses and report back a revised measure that would be suitable both to President Coolidge and the war department.

Passage Assured
Though there is a growing sentiment in favor of naming a commission to dispose of Muscle Shoals, Senator Curtis, Republican of Kansas, majority leader, told today that so many senators have pledged themselves to the Underwood plan its passage in the upper chamber seemed assured.
It was the belief of numerous supporters that in conference the bill would be revised into virtually a new measure, combining the best features of the various proposals that have been submitted for settling the Muscle Shoals controversy.

Defeat of the Smith amendment prohibiting private operation of the government's nitrate and power properties, has apparently solidified the Underwood ranks. Over that barrier, they predicted that no proposal now before the Senate would command sufficient votes to defeat the bill.

Expect Stiff Fight
But indications were today that the Underwood bill cannot be passed without the stiffest kind of fight from Progressives and Democrats who favored the Smith amendment.

Senator Curtis announced today that he would try to reach an agreement in the Senate to vote on the Underwood bill on Saturday.

Progressives intimated they would block this effort in order to postpone the whole question until after the Christmas holidays.

MIDWEST FROZEN BY RECORD COLD

Chicago Experiences Lowest Temperature In Years As Mercury Drops

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The heralded cold wave, which, within 24 hours has brought the lowest temperatures in years to the west and northwest, descended on Chicago during the night, and today had transformed it into a city of ice.
Thermometers which stood at 37 degrees last evening, dropped dizzily as the night wore on, chilling what had been a drizzling rain into a sheeting of ice on streets, rails and telegraph wires, impeding all traffic and causing scores of accidents.
The full intensity of the cold wave, however, had not reached here with the 20 degree temperature registered today, according to weather bureau officials. The frigid weather, moving from the Canadian northwest where sub-zero temperatures have prevailed for two days, was slightly delayed, they said, and would probably reach here later today.
It was warning up at Winnipeg and over the northwest generally today. Winnipeg reported a temperature of 16 degrees below zero at 4 a. m., and only 10 below at 8 a. m. It was 26 below there yesterday. Minneapolis reported 8 below at 8 a. m.

1000 Japanese Immigrants On Way To Brazil

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—One thousand Japanese immigrants are expected in Brazil during the two months' period ending December 31, and another contingent of 1,500 will arrive between January and March next, according to advices received today by the department of labor.
"This active immigration is receiving the assistance and encouragement of the Japanese government and is expected to supply rice workers for the Brazilian rice fields," the report stated.

MANHATTAN BOWS HEAD TO GOMPERS

Sixty-one Years Ago Sam Came to New York Poor Immigrant

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The great city of New York to which Samuel Gompers came sixty-one years ago a penniless immigrant boy of no distinction, paused thoughtfully in its manifold activities today and paid a noble tribute to his memory.
The body of the late president of the American Federation of Labor arrived in New York from Washington early today. It will lie in state at the Elks' clubhouse until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Funeral services will be at that time.

A few hours later the body will be lowered to its final resting place in historic old Sleepy Hollow cemetery at Tarrytown, in the rolling Hudson river country made famous by Washington Irving.
The train bearing the body of Gompers arrived at the Pennsylvania station at 7 o'clock this morning. Hurrying hundreds on their way to work stopped outside the station for a brief view of the solemn cortege as it started for the Elks' clubhouse. Dinner was served at 5:30 o'clock after which each man present contributed to the entertainment.

Lewis Sperry Elected Men's Club President

Election of officers was held at the meeting of the Men's Club of the Congregational church last night at the church. H. C. Wilcox, president, directed the meeting. New officers elected were: Lewis Sperry, president; G. W. Blanch, vice-president; A. D. Coss, secretary, and Henry Prussing, treasurer. Dinner was served at 5:30 o'clock after which each man present contributed to the entertainment.

Employment Declines, Says Labor Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Employment decreased slightly and there was a slight falling off in per capita earnings from October to November, the department of labor announced today. Seasonal declines rather than any slump in business was responsible for the decreases, the department said. Earnings decreased 1.3 per cent, while employment was off one-tenth of one per cent.

COOK FREEZES TO DEATH ON RIVER

Rescue Party Vainly Tries To Reach Boat Carried By Icy Current

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 17.—Frozen to death, the body of George F. Watts, a cook residing at 245 15th street east, North Vancouver, was taken from an open boat in the middle of the Fraser river at 2 o'clock this morning by a rescue tug and at the same time, J. Greenwood, fireman, Vancouver, was rescued in a state of extreme exhaustion from Matsui island, opposite Silverdale, and taken to the hospital at Mission, B. C., where he will recover.
Greenwood was trying to convey Watts' body when he was sick, the Ross dredge at Haisla, to the shore, when the rowboat was caught in the current and carried down with ice past Mission, and at the sight of many persons, who tried spectacular forms of rescue until the boat was caught in the jam above Matsui island, where the last act of a drama of the daring rescue was enacted.

POSTAL BILL DEFEAT IS SOUGHT

Coolidge Requests Senate to Uphold Veto on Measure For More Pay

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Senate this afternoon agreed to postpone a vote on President Coolidge's veto of the postal pay bill until January 6.

The veto message will come up on January 5, and a final vote is scheduled for the next day.
In the meantime, administration leaders will seek to consolidate their forces for passage of a bill combining postage increases with increases in salaries of postal employees.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Direct pressure was again exerted from the White House today to have the Senate uphold President Coolidge's veto of the postal pay bill which adds $68,000,000 annually to the cost of government by increasing the pay of post office employees.
President Coolidge had a conference at the White House last night with Senators Borah, Sterling and Curtis, and this was followed this morning by six Republican senators, Spencer, Gooding, Cummins, Stanford, McCormick for McKinley being summoned to the White House for further conferences.

Await Veto Vote
The president emphasized to them his desire that the senate uphold his veto of the bill—at least until administration leaders can bring out the new rate bill which will saddle most of the cost on American newspapers and periodicals by raising second class rates.

A group of Democratic senators, however, in their opposition to linking the two measures, have erected a parliamentary barrier against further action on the rate bill until after a vote has been taken on the veto. This probably will not come until next week because of the senate's agreement limiting legislation until the Muscle Shoals debate is ended.

WARNING LETTERS HIT M'COY TRIAL

Kid's Dramatic Statement Alleging Suicide of Mors Woman Is Read

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—Alleged threatening letters from Albert A. Mors, husband of Teresa Mors, Kid McCoy's last sweetheart, were tossed on to a table in the courtroom where the former pugilist is on trial for Mrs. Mors' murder today and offered as evidence for the state. The letters were written to Roy Davis, Los Angeles banker, who is McCoy's brother-in-law.
Actual introduction of the letters was held up while defense attorneys were given an opportunity to read them. In the meantime the jurors listened to McCoy's dramatic statement made to the police when he was arrested for Mrs. Mors' murder.
"Mrs. Mors told me she was going to end it all," read the fighter's statement. "Mors had bounded her and followed her and wouldn't leave her alone. She was at the end of things."

Bread Knife
"There was a bread knife on the table and she picked it up and said she was going to kill herself and made a slash at her throat."

"I grabbed her arms and held her so she couldn't harm herself. She reached with her left hand to the table where the gun was lying, got it and fired it with her thumb."
"She fell in front of me. I ran and got water and tried to ably her but she was dead."
"Then I went out to end it all. I don't remember what happened."

Secretary of Navy Will Be Questioned Relative To Committee Statements

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—As a result of President Coolidge's opposition to naval investigations in Congress, the House naval affairs committee today voted indefinite postponement of a proposed inquiry to determine the efficiency and adequacy of the United States navy.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur will be invited to appear before the committee on December 31 to explain some details of his statement to the House appropriations committee on construction needs, but he will not be asked to give his views on the present condition of the navy.

Fletcher To Health Resort

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17.—Ambassador Fletcher will leave tomorrow for Cuernavaca, a nearby health resort, where he will rest for ten days, he announced today. He intends later to sail for Havana or Miami.
If his health improves he will return to Mexico City late in January. If it does not, it is expected here that he will ask Secretary of State Hughes to relieve him from further duty.

British Policy Is Attacked

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Wedgewood Benn, opening the Liberal attack against the government in the House of Commons today, characterized the government's policy as one of "imperial preference."
"What the world is crying for is peace and good will," he said. "What the government is offering the world is armaments and tariff restrictions. We think the ministers are little dictators of the Bismarckian line."

Evening News Publisher Opposes Party Politics In Municipal Affairs

Several weeks ago when the Glendale Republican club was organized in this community, the publisher of The Glendale Evening News became a member of that club. He did so, believing that the principles of the Republican party in national politics express his views more definitely than the principles expressed by any other party. He is pleased to remain an active member of the Republican club thus organized in Glendale, so far as the purpose of such club is for the consideration of national and state politics, but when it comes to injecting into the party the idea of its participating in local politics, the publisher of The Glendale Evening News wishes to be released from all obligations in connection with local political affairs which are manipulated by any political party, club, lodge, church, school or any organization whatsoever. The election of municipal officers should entirely be in the hands of the people. The best men should be presented and supported, regardless of what political party, religious denomination or fraternal organization they may belong.

BREAK HINTED AS WILBUR INSISTS

Navy Head's Preparedness Policy Goes Against Coolidge Grain

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Is there friction between President Coolidge and Secretary of the Navy Wilbur?
Officially the answer "No" is given. But within the last 48 hours two things have happened which have set the national capital talking, wondering, speculating and even predicting that some reconciliation of viewpoint is going to be developed.

The president expressed his views at a private gathering last Saturday night. He didn't criticize Secretary Wilbur but he left the distinct impression that he was not going to be stampeded by the agitation for bigger armaments and that America intended to keep to the letter of the treaties made at the Washington arms conference. The writer did not hear the speech but understands that some of the thoughts expressed by the president and reproduced in some of the eastern newspapers are indicative of a policy which has been slowly maturing in his mind as he has listened to the exposition of international relations given him by Secretary Hughes.
As for Secretary Wilbur, he is a newcomer in Washington and a novice in naval affairs but he has given heed as have other naval secretaries to the viewpoint of the naval experts who have insisted that America not only must spend money to keep up the 5-5-3 ratio but must develop

ROCKY BLIZZARD CAUSES 8 DEATHS

Driving Snow Shields Fast Train From Motorists; Sub-Zero Weather

DENVER, Dec. 17.—The men and two young women school teachers were killed yesterday near Sterling, Colo., when a driving snowstorm prevented their seeing a fast approaching train. Their automobile was demolished and the four bodies mangled.
Poor visibility as a result of the heavy snowfall in Helena, Mont., is believed to have been the cause of a collision between a street car and a Great Northern train that took four lives.
Two young children of Mrs. Charles Cady were suffocated in Bozeman, Mont., when fire destroyed the Cady home. The children were found dead in bed after firemen had extinguished the flames.
Snow and sub-zero weather prevailed today throughout the Rocky mountain region. Montana was in the grip of a blizzard that established a record in Butte when the thermometer dropped from 53 above to 24 below in twelve hours. Thirty below zero was reported from several sections in that state. Snow was falling in Wyoming and Colorado, with little prospect of relief today, according to official weather reports.

Southland Is Benefited By General Rain

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—Southern California received an average of more than three quarters of an inch of rain from the storm which broke yesterday and was reported to be rapidly subsiding in all sections today, according to weather bureau officials. Points near San Diego received an inch of rain and Covina reported 1.10 inches for the storm and 4.08 for the season to date, as compared to 1.02 at this time last year.
Other points reported for the storm as follows: Redlands, 1 inch; Corona .99; Riverside .94; Escondido 1.50; Pasadena .08 and El Cajon 1.42.
Low temperatures followed the storm and heavy frosts were predicted in exposed sections tonight. Farmers and power companies reported the storm was of great benefit.

FLOOD PREDICTED TO SWEEP VALLEY

Swing Tells House That Fate Imminent Unless River Is Dammed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—More than 50,000 inhabitants of Imperial valley, California, are in imminent danger of a flood which would sweep away all of their possessions and put the area under water for many years, it was said here today by Representative Swing of California, with the opening of Senate committee hearings on the Swing-Johnson bill for the utilization of waters of the Colorado river in reclamation work.
"The Colorado river is only held in check today by levees which are by no means permanent. The valley is 250 feet below sea level, while the river only drops thirty feet to the sea from that point," Swing said. "If the levees ever break in the spring freshets, it is probable that incalculable loss, if not total destruction, would follow in its wake throughout the valley."

Senator Johnson, co-author of the bill, said the project would pay for itself within thirty years with interest through the sale of electric power generated at the dam.

Famous Land Promoter Is Named as Bankrupt

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—E. G. Lewis of Atascadero, Cal., former St. Louis publisher, widely known as a promoter of land projects, was named a bankrupt in a creditors' petition on file in federal court here today. His outstanding production contracts, mine notes, loans and other obligations represent an indebtedness of $9,314,000, according to the petition of the creditors, who place their claims at $9,236. Lewis' assets, the petition alleges, are approximately $1,000,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The court of general sessions dismissed three indictments this afternoon that have been pending against Harry Kendall Thaw since two weeks after his alleged whipping of Frederick Gump, Kansas City, Mo., high school boy, on December 26, 1916. The action leaves Thaw free to come and go in New York without the threat of arrest hanging over him.

HEAVY FROST WARNING IS ISSUED BY BUREAU

Lakes and Streams In North Frozen; Chilly Weather to Continue, Prediction

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Heavy to killing frosts with temperatures below freezing are in prospect for the second day of the severest cold wave of the winter in California.

Special frost warnings were sent out by the United States weather bureau today all over the state. In addition to Northern California, the heavy frost will invade the fruit growing valleys of the San Joaquin, Sacramento and Santa Clara and extend into Southern California.
Mount Wilson was California's coldest spot early today, with a temperature of 16 above. Santa Rosa reported 22 above, Chico 24, Oroville 26, Paso Robles 27, and other points ranged upward to 28. Pomona, in Southern California, reported 29.
Shippers were warned against 10 degrees below zero weather in Nevada.

Cold to Continue
Lakes and small streams in Northern California were frozen early today.

The cold weather is likely to continue the rest of the week, a low pressure area now near Hawaii being the only relief in sight, according to the weather bureau.
From the Canadian line on the north through Washington, Oregon and California and in Idaho, Montana, Utah and Nevada, the lowest temperatures of the season were reported.

Rain for Southland
Accompanied by a gale, the temperature in Portland fell steadily during the past twenty-four hours at the rate of a degree an hour, and early today hovered around 10 degrees above.
In San Francisco clear, cold weather followed the rain, and early today a temperature of 40 degrees above zero was recorded. Much lower temperatures prevailed in mountain and valley points in Northern California, and heavy falls of snow were reported in the mountains.
Clear and cold weather prevailed in Southern California with rain predicted for today.

PAY RESPECTS AT BIER OF ASA HALL

Large Number of Friends Attend Ceremonies for Late Councilman

"For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."—Acts 11:24.

Representatives from practically every organization in the city gathered at the Glendale Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon with friends and relatives of Asa Hall, who died Saturday, December 13, 1924, at the age of 80 years.

During the rain and dampness that furnished such a contrast to the usual sunny December days of Southern California, they came in hundreds to pay final tribute to the memory of this sincere Christian character who as a member of the City Council and an elder in the church where the services were held, had won the confidence and respect of the entire city since he came here from Los Angeles in 1921.

Solemn Ceremonies

Later a long procession, headed by Mayor Spencer Robinson and the City Council, in an official police car piloted by Mayor Robinson, R. Baugh of the Glendale police department, filed over to the Hollywood cemetery, on Santa Monica boulevard, Los Angeles, where brief committal services were held, Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Glendale Presbyterian church officiating.

At the church, the casket lay banked in flowers and mingled fragrance of many blooms permeated the atmosphere of that holy place, mingled with the quiet, peaceful notes of the great organ, played by Oscar F. Walton, church organist.

At 2 o'clock the exercises opened with a solo by Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts, "Sun of My Soul," sung from the altar above that mass of flowers, with organ accompaniment by Mr. Walton. To the left of the altar stood the Stars and Stripes, under whose inspiring colors Asa Hall had served for so many years, his country and the cities of his choice, first Los Angeles and then Glendale.

Tribute By Pastor

"Be strong and let thy heart take courage," quoted Rev. Edmonds, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. As for man, his days are as grass..."

Rev. Edmonds told the gathering of his intimate acquaintance with the deceased as a member of the board of elders of the Glendale Presbyterian church and declared he would prefer to be one of the mourners than standing in the pulpit delivering a last address to one he had known so well and esteemed so highly.

"This is an occasion not of defeat but of victory," he said. "While earth is poorer, heaven is enriched. We say we have lost a friend and a brother—but for this comrade it is not the end but the beginning."

Good Public Servant

Rev. Edmonds then drew a comparison between Asa Hall and King Asa, son of King David of Israel. He then addressed himself to Mayor Robinson and the members of the City Council, who sat together in one of the front pews on the left side, opposite the assembly of elders of the church. The deceased was not only a good servant of the church, he told the councilmen, but was also a good public servant, strong in purpose and possessing the ability to withstand criticism. Rev. Edmonds thanked the council for the resolution adopted at the special session of Monday, December 15, offering condolences on the death of their fellow councilman, in which they mourned his loss of "a conscientious and faithful official" and "an honorable Christian gentleman."

Though the end came suddenly for Asa Hall, he was ready, Rev. Edmonds left with the gathering as a final thought, quoting from the Scriptures, "Be ye also ready."

Friends In Parting

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, where the deceased was for many years an elder, then spoke briefly, stressing the thought that though the day was rainy in Glendale, there was eternal sunshine in the land where he had gone.

The exercises concluded with a solo by Mrs. Retts, "Abide With Me," accompanied on the organ by Mr. Walton. Then, while the family of Asa Hall sat with bowed heads on the far right of the great auditorium, near the front, a panel of the casket was lifted and those of the friends and associates of the deceased who so desired, filed past and looked one last time upon the immobile face of Asa Hall.

They then passed into the street and stood with bowed heads while the pallbearers, headed by Mayor Robinson and the members of the City Council, as honorary pallbearers, carried the casket to the waiting hearse, through an escort of church elders and a guard of motor officers from the Glendale police department.

Follow To Grave

The hearse, heaped with flowers, moved off toward the Hollywood cemetery. The official car of the city of Glendale led in line, bearing Mayor Robinson and the members of the City Council, and there followed fully fifty cars of mourners, including members of the family, city officials, church members, loving friends and nu-

Students Are Rejoicing In Dual Victory

Students of Glendale High school are rejoicing today over the two victories gained by the football teams Saturday at Patterson field, Occidental college. The Class C team, fleawrights, brought the Southern California championship in that division to Glendale when they trounced the Huntington Park babes 7 to 0; and the varsity team went into the finals for the Southern California title in the heavy-weight division by eliminating Orange 7 to 0. The varsity will play Compton next Saturday for the title. The two Class C teams tied 7 to 7 at Huntington Park on December 3, and the two heavyweight teams tied 0 to 0 at Santa Ana on December 6.

WESLEYAN GIVEN LARGE TELESCOPE

Gift of Professor Is Third In Size; Mirror to Be Sixty-one Inches

DELAWARE, Ohio, Dec. 17.—Perkins observatory at Ohio Wesleyan university here, with its sixty-one-inch reflecting telescope, the third largest in the world, is now complete save for the installation of the temporary mirror of the instrument, which is to be loaned by Harvard college observatory. The Perkins instrument is the largest reflecting telescope in existence, aside from the two giant reflectors on the Pacific coast, at Mount Wilson, and the Dominion observatory at Victoria, B. C.

The telescope mounting, weighing thirty-seven tons, has been placed on its 40-ton concrete base. The dome under which the telescope is housed is completed even to its movable top, which contains 168 tons of steel.

The telescope contains 6850 parts, varying in weight from .006 of an ounce to 6700 pounds. The permanent mirror, which, when completed, will replace the one temporarily loaned by Harvard, is to be sixty-one inches in diameter, nine inches thick and will weigh 2700 pounds. The giant dimensions of the telescope make possible an instrument of wonderful power, and astronomers estimate that through it more than a billion stars will be visible. The naked human eye cannot see stars beyond those of the sixth magnitude, but the Perkins telescope will make visible stars of the eighteenth magnitude and make possible photographic records of the images of those of the nineteenth and, possibly, the twentieth magnitude.

The huge telescope and the observatory are the conception and the gift to Ohio Wesleyan of the late Professor and Mrs. Hiram M. Perkins of this city. Professor Perkins taught mathematics and astronomy in the university for fifty years.

Southern Merchants Plan Clearance Sales

ATLANTA, Dec. 17.—With holiday shopping at a high level, the larger merchants in this section especially dealers in men's and women's wearing apparel, are making plans for more extensive January clearance sales than they have ever conducted before. The warm fall caused disappointments to merchants who anticipated heavy trade in winter clothing and most of their stocks are still on the shelves. Buyers now swarming the stores are seeking gift merchandise almost exclusively. Christmas buyers are leaning toward the higher priced articles, the season being notable for the quantity of motor cars, jewelry and high priced radio outfits bought as gifts.

Prices on Oregon Hops Show Advance In Week

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 17.—Hop prices are going up. A local dealer has sold 325 bales to English buyers at 13 cents a pound, an advance of 3 cents in a week. The quality of Oregon hops is said to have stimulated European demand.

merous representatives of Glendale organizations. The committal services at the grave were brief. Just a few words of Scripture from Rev. Edmonds, while all stood before the flower-decked casket with bowed heads, a few petals of rose leaves dropped by some tender hand—then silence.

Turning slowly away, the mourners went back to their cars, leaving the earth to embrace all that is earthly of Asa Hall, the loved of multitudes, never to be forgotten in the history of Glendale.

The following are among the members of the family who were present: Mrs. Carrie W. Hall, the widow; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin R. Hall, son and daughter-in-law, of Long Beach, with their son, Mason Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hall, cousins with their daughters, the Misses Elizabeth and Louise Hall, of 1201 Viola avenue, Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Olin Joy, cousins, of Van Nuys; Mr. and Mrs. Hooper Blanchard, cousins, of Santa Paula. Two sisters of the deceased, Mrs. Joseph Pippon and Mrs. Nettie Petch, both of Ontario, Canada, were not present.

BUSINESS TO COMBINE IN VALLEY

Manufacturers of Burbank, Glendale to Join In Association

Manufacturers of Glendale and Burbank will hold a joint meeting next week for the purpose of taking the first steps toward formation of a San Fernando valley manufacturers' association. The invitation to the Glendale industrial men to attend the next regular meeting of the Burbank Manufacturers' association when the matter of a larger organization to cover this entire industrial district from the boundary of Los Angeles will be taken up, was issued yesterday before the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by Secretary J. W. Charleville of the Burbank chamber, who also is a leading spirit in the manufacturers' association.

Secretary Howard I. Wood of the Glendale chamber spoke in behalf of the plan, declaring it would be an important step in the industrial development of Glendale which will be one of the main undertakings of the chamber of commerce during the coming year. Many problems which are peculiar to the manufacturers could be handled by such an organization better than by the chamber of commerce, it was brought out.

The industrial committee of the Glendale chamber, headed by Frank L. Fox, will take the matter up and discuss it in connection with the forthcoming industrial survey to be conducted here. Mr. Fox announced at the meeting that plans for commencing the survey January 1, 1925, were virtually complete.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Dec. 17.—Through the efforts of the Tujunga Valley bank and teaching staff of the school over 200 small home banks have been taken by pupils and nearly 100 pupils have opened savings accounts with the bank. By saving $1 in the small bank the depositor becomes eligible for a regular account on the books at the bank. Tujunga pupils are taught to do their own banking and managing. An honor button is awarded to pupils holding bank books. Mrs. Butler of Los Angeles, who helped start the savings system there, recently spoke to the pupils in various rooms of the Tujunga school.

Three girls, Catherine Silver, Mildred Elsey and Patricia Haynes are new members of the Mystic Maidens, a girls' club. An election of officers was recently held and Ruth Allen was made president; Sybil Stewart, vice-president; Lucy Rogers, secretary; Louise Greer, treasurer.

Miss Davis and Miss Dodds, two teachers, are president and vice-president of a girls' dramatic club, other officers being: Sybil Stewart, secretary, and Marion Messick, sergeant-at-arms. Rings with the club signet on them are to be worn.

Myrtle Norton was transferred to Los Angeles and before leaving received a shower of confetti from her classmate friends.

Teachers institute is being held this week and next week is Christmas vacation for the school.

Mr. Lowe, deputy county superintendent of schools, praised Tujunga on a recent tour of inspection.

Virginia Husted, Patricia Haynes, Emma Messick, Helen Buck, Virginia O'Shaunnessy and Evelyn Alston are taking the cooking course given at school.

A substantial gain in weight has been made by children who at the beginning of the school year were underweight.

Under the direction of Miss Stella Wieman, school nurse, rest periods are held for the pupils who are found underweight.

The Girls' Glee club has made progress and recently sang two songs at a public entertainment given by the Parent-Teacher association.

Betty and Frances Van West are promising art students, pupils at the Laura Lee studio.

Miss Osborn recently entertained the Boys' Glee club at her home. Members present were: Thurman Banks, Charles Schneider, Willard Ellsworth, George Sutton, James Greer, Jack Tarbush, Donald Spurr.

Miss Buckner, teacher of the A first grade, has been ill at the home of friends in Los Angeles. Miss McClellan substituted for her.

The recent bazaar and entertainment held by the Parent-Teacher association cleared enough money, over $300, to pay off all debts contracted by the association, including the chairs in the school auditorium.

Textile Firm Secures Southeastern Plants

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Dec. 17.—The Cannon Textile interests of Charlotte have purchased plants at Gillen and Hamer, S. C., bringing their spindle capacity to 770,000. The new properties have 45,000 spindles and represent an investment of $1,200,000. This makes the Cannon corporation one of the largest textile manufacturers in the southeast.

An attempt is being made to raise grouse in New Zealand, and birds being imported.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Chilly this morning, wasn't it? Fortunately yesterday's high winds brought sufficient rainfall to protect this favored clime against a freeze. Yes, the rainfall this year is about normal, if any easterner should inquire.

And the cool weather also makes the southland "normal" for its cold from coast to coast. In the northern states it is more than cold. Cities are snowbound and much of the telegraph business has been routed south through Los Angeles to New York from west coast points.

San Francisco had some snow flurries yesterday as chilly blasts came roaring down the Pacific coast. Today the cold wave has swept over the Rocky mountain states and is headed east. My, but won't the chill Chicagoans who are on their way to the coast this winter appreciate California as they never have before.

Shop in Glendale if you would avoid the mad crush of the city. Los Angeles stores may be bigger, but no better, as far as values and service are concerned.

"Trade at Home" and you'll find it equally as pleasurable as having the very clothes torn from your body in an effort to get from curb to curb in the downtown traffic. The writer knows!

Los Angeles is going to awake to the fact that it needs second floor parquets for pedestrians if it is to even supply the shoppers who live in Los Angeles. So much for that.

Builders should be busy this holiday season boosting Glendale's construction total. Every possible effort should be used to shove December work if this city is to show even a slight increase over the record year 1923.

There has been lots of building here, not a word of complaint, but there is need for more along certain lines. So let's build!

Many deaths this season among the prominent as well as the common people call to mind that all of us are of the same clay. And our good deeds live on in the minds of others. Eulogies after death, however, give little personal satisfaction. We should have more praise for the living.

PORTUGAL SELLS SHIPS FROM NAVY

Two Old Vessels Offered by European Nation Are Called Useless

LISBON, Dec. 17.—The present-day fashion among nations of selling off old warships has caught on in Portugal and the government has decided to offer two of its warships for sale.

The Portuguese navy, which consists almost entirely of "museum pieces," as sailors term old warships, is to be delivered of the cruisers Almirante Reis and Sao Gabriel, which were built in 1889 and have been dismantled for many months.

Any person who wishes to tender for this scrap iron must deposit a sum of 50,000 escudos with the navy department of Portugal, or about $5000 at the present rate of exchange.

Big Steel Companies Enter Midwest Field

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Purchase by the McClintic-Marshall Steel Co. of the McClintic Construction Co. and the Kenwood Bridge Co., two large steel concerns here, is taken to indicate a general move on the part of big steel companies to enter the midwest field now that Pittsburgh plus has been abolished.

Flour Prices Gain As Wheat Crop Is Short

SEATTLE, Dec. 17.—Coast millers have advanced the price of family patent 20 cents a barrel to $9.70 or what is approximately the wartime level. This move followed the advance in best milling grades of wheat. There is no wheat left in growers' hands so still higher flour prices are expected.

Tire Sales Leading In Mercantile Lines

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 19.—Tire sales have shown more marked improvement than nearly any other line. One leading house has reported sales for November doubled those of the corresponding month last year. Prices are low and the open weather is encouraging free buying.

Demand For Sheep And Goats Seen In South

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17.—There is a strong demand for sheep and goats and considerable trading is reported. While grass is short in some sections, wheat pasturage, straw stacks and bundle feed are helping out. Range conditions are only about 70 per cent of normal.

Ore from Tasmania is to be converted into steel at a mill to be built in New South Wales at a cost of $10,000,000.

'MA' TO GIVE MAN'S RULE TO TEXAS

Mrs. Ferguson Loses Favor Of Women Politicians On This Point

By ROBERT T. SMALL, Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924. TEMPLE, Texas, Dec. 17.—

"Ma" Ferguson, who is to become governor of this vast commonwealth which not so very long ago was a republic of its own right, seems destined to get into all sorts of trouble with the women's political organizations of the country. For "Ma" is going to give the state for two years a "man's" administration. It is commonly understood by now that she is going to have a man cabinet and that office seekers of the feminine persuasion have found "Ma" jolly glad to do their rights for public preferment.

Leaders of the feminist movement, elated at first over "Ma's" election are turning their gaze away from Texas saying that this is not the ideal victory they were looking for.

"Ma" is not the great sentimentalist she has been pictured at times, and in her conduct of state affairs she is to be guided largely by the practical views of a husband who is one of the keenest politicians the state has ever known, a man who served one interrupted term as governor.

It has been reported that "Ma," because she is a woman, would be the first of a put in the "dogging" of prisoners, in the state. As a matter of fact Texas has had very little of that sort of thing.

"Ma" will look into the subject along with other things and if she finds abuses at any time undoubtedly with the aid of her cabinet, she will correct them.

"Ma" and Prisons

The truth is that "abuses" in the Texas prison system seems to be along an entirely different line recently. The "honor" system has been on trial at the state farm and the "good" prisoners have had no guards over them, being permitted to live as free a life as possible within the confines of the big ranch. "Ma" does not think well of the honor system and it is said will abolish it. There have been too many escapes under it, she has been told.

Just at the moment "Pa" Ferguson, otherwise known as "Jim" is doing all the talking for the Ferguson family. "Ma" stays here at the old home and sends "Pa" out to represent her at various state conferences—the most important of which has just been held at Dallas on the subject of a new taxation. "Pa" speaks confidently of "the coming Ferguson administration." He also uses rather freely the editorial of the royal "we" in speaking of the future policies likely to be put into effect at Austin on and after the 17th of next January when "Ma" takes the oath of office.

"Ma" in Background "Ma" Ferguson does not care an awful lot for the limelight and does not pride herself on her public speaking. During her campaign she made few speeches, being content most of the while to utter just a few words of greeting and then introduce her husband to do the talking.

Of course allowing one's husband to do all the talking for one is entirely out of line with the ideas of the modern feminist movement. An anachronism to say the least—and that is another reason why "Ma" is likely to fall down woefully in the estimation of her sisters in politics throughout the rest of the country.

Yet "Ma" has some very fine views on the rights of women, and is more than willing to accept them their place in the sun. She is firm in the belief that a proper interest by women in the affairs of state and nation will not impair the life of some.

"I am a native Texas woman," says "Ma," "a Texas wife and a Texas mother; than which honors, I hold, far greater can be accorded to woman. Even the governorship which for the time being has been placed upon me, can add no brighter laurels than those already worn by the wifehood and motherhood of Texas."

Believes in Husband "As a native Texas I am a firm believer in Texas, and the great and good hearts of her people."

"I am a believer in my husband, and in the goodness of his intentions, and I know that no noble Texas woman would have me otherwise."

"Ma" said that for the benefit of a people who have been knocking "Pa," "Ma" has been fighting to "come back" ever since his impeachment some 7 years ago. Four years ago he organized a party of his own and ran for president of the United States. It was the American party. Few persons outside of Texas knew anything about it, but "Pa" polled 150,000 votes just the same.

Two years ago "Pa" ran against Mayfield for United States senator, but lost. This year he wanted to run for governor, but because of his impeachment they barred him from the ballot.

"Then I'll run," "Ma" said.

ORATORIO IS PRESENTED BY CLUB

Handel's Great Masterpiece, 'The Messiah,' Enthralls Audience at School

From the opening strains of the short grave overture, majestic in its abruptness, yet compelling, to the final chant, the members of the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club and the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra thrilled the audience with their presentation of Handel's great masterpiece, "The Messiah," at the Broadway High school auditorium last night.

The massive chorus of over 100 voices was directed by John Smallman, noted throughout the Southland for his impressive oratorio work. Four vocalists who delighted the listeners with their masterful rendition of the solo numbers were Monnie Hays Hastings, soprano; Clemence Gifford Johnson, contralto; Harold Proctor, tenor, and A. J. Kisselburgh, baritone.

The outstanding features of the oratorio were the baritone arias, "Why Do the Nations?" the several soprano solos, in which Miss Hastings displayed remarkable talent and ability; the pathetic aria, "He Was Despised and Rejected of Men," sung by Miss Johnson, and the sublime Hallelujah chorus, easily the most marvelous portion of the oratorio, whose tremendous grandeur and sublimity has appealed to the many who have heard the oratorio since it was written in 1741.

Custom Observed
According to the custom established by King George II, on March 23, 1743, when "The Messiah" was first heard by Londoners at Covent Garden, the audience arose and remained standing throughout the Hallelujah chorus. At the end of the first part of the oratorio floral gifts were presented to Director Smallman and Florence Hoover Rogers, accompanist. The Philharmonic orchestra was under the supervision of Julius Bierlich, concert master.

Rail Crossing In City Would Be Permanent

A permanent crossing over the Southern Pacific railroad tracks at West Broadway and San Fernando road will be sought through the state railroad commission by Peter L. Ferry and others interested in industrial development in that section of the city. The endorsement of the City Planning commission and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce has been gained by Mr. Ferry, and the project has been approved by the City Council.

At present there is only a temporary crossing over the tracks which may be closed by the railroad company at any time without notice. In order to assure a thoroughfare for all time, a permanently designated crossing will be sought.

Players Late Comedy Makes Distinct Mark

"Only 38," the current comedy production by the Dobinson Players at the Playhouse, is meeting with success because of its appeal to all ages. The cast is doing some of its best work.

Gertrude Kellar, who in the role of a minister's widow, left at the age of 38 to support and educate twins of eighteen years, does the best work of her career. William H. Stephens and Mary Isabelle Belpaugh in the role of the twins, whose only thought is to live up to their late father's idea of what is required of a minister's family, are a delight. George C. Pearce, director of the players, gives a remarkable characterization of Mr. Sanborn, the grandfather. Richard Ehlers as Syd Johnson gives an exceptionally pleasing performance. Gertrude Rothe as Mary Hadley, charms with her daintiness. Thyra Ruhland as Mrs. Newcomb, causes much merriment in her sneezing scene, and Olaf Hytten as Professor Giddings gives a good performance. Beginning with today's matinee, this comedy will run through the week, to be followed by the charming comedy, "I Love You."

During a price war between rival gasoline companies in London recently the quotations went below those of 1914.

NEW COMPANY FORMED BY BANKERS

State Bond & Mortgage Co. To Be Affiliated With Loan Association

Announcement was made today by a prominent group of bankers and business men of the organization of the State Bond & Mortgage Co. This new Glendale institution will be affiliated with the Golden State Building-Loan association, and its purpose is to enlarge and supplement the activities of the building-loan association in the upbuilding of Glendale.

The State Bond & Mortgage Co. has an authorized capital of $500,000, and its officers and directors include some of the best known and most substantial men in Glendale. The company will share the well equipped offices of the Golden State Building-Loan association at 104 East Broadway, which were formerly occupied by the Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank. These quarters are fitted with the latest improvements in banking fixtures, including a fireproof and burglar-proof vault.

Officers of the new institution are: D. H. Smith, president; Roy L. Kent, vice-president; Frank L. Fox, treasurer, and C. N. Elder, secretary. Directors of the new company are: D. H. Smith, Roy L. Kent, Frank L. Fox, C. N. Elder, W. W. Lee, W. S. Perrin and W. E. Hewitt. Judge Harry W. Chase will act as counsel.

The plan of operation of the two companies briefly, is this: The Golden State Building & Loan association is specializing in building loans, that is, loans for the construction of new homes on vacant lots. In order to encourage the prospective home builder, these loans are made as liberal as is consistent with a safe and conservative business policy, and

Violinist

ELSIE MANION, who will share honors Thursday night with Margaret Messer Morris, soprano, in a recital at Van Grove music salon.

Elsie Manion is the talented violinist, who, with Margaret Messer Morris, well known Southern California soprano, will appear in recital Thursday night in the Van Grove music salon, 337 North Brand boulevard. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Accompaniments will be played by the Ampico. Glendale women prominent in musical and social life will be patronesses of the event.

This new salon offers to Glendale music lovers an artistic setting for musical events. It is one of the beauty spots in Glendale's business district. Unique in design and arrangement, the salon creates a desire in passersby to see the interior. Within one finds everything harmonizing in a cultural atmosphere.

At present one of the features of the salon is an exhibit of paintings by John W. Cotton, nationally known artist, whom Glendale is proud to claim as a resident.

News Reader In Plea For Xmas Cheer to All

Editor The Evening News—Having noticed in your paper with much interest the activities of the good people of Glendale for a Merry Christmas to soldiers at the Sawtelle Home, which is a fine thing to do, I wish to add a plea for the few stragglers outside the Soldiers' Home who may be located in the suburban towns. Some will be missed unless we assign these good suburban people to outpost duty; to look among their neighbors and see to it that no one is missed for a basket with something in it to make for Christmas cheer. Especially those World War veterans who are disabled, sick or in need of present help. Cause them to feel that a grateful people have appreciated their service to the country. Let's hope that Uncle Sam's soldiers of all wars will be cared for. And "Lest we forget"—may everyone in every hamlet or village be a self-appointed committee to look around their neighborhood to be certain that there is not one we should feel sorry for after Christmas.

Woman Victim of Auto Crash Badly Injured

X-ray photographs of Mrs. H. H. Cooper of Highland avenue, taken at the Burbank hospital where she is a patient, showed a fractured skull, it was reported today, although hospital authorities would neither admit nor deny it. They reported her condition as "satisfactory."

In addition to other serious injuries, Mrs. Cooper sustained a broken right leg, when the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, collided with a car driven by Clark Johnson of 631-A North Orange street, yesterday morning, at the intersection of Highland avenue and Kenneth road. Mr. Johnson was thrown clear of his car by the impact, but was not seriously injured.

The luncheon will be in the new station building, commencing at 12:15 o'clock. George F. Orslet, chairman of the luncheon club will preside.

BURBANK ASKS U. OF C. SITE FOR CITY

Glendale Chamber to Give Support In Bringing Branch There

The city of Burbank will actively compete for the new Southern California branch of the University of California and will have the backing of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations of this city in their effort to bring the school to this section. Following a conference between directors of the Burbank chamber and owners of the Marks estate yesterday resulted in the decision to seek the university for Burbank, according to an announcement by Secretary J. W. Charleville of the chamber.

Secretary Charleville appeared before the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon and was assured of the support of the local body by President D. H. Smith.

The Marks estate includes 135 acres, according to Mr. Charleville, with the city of Burbank willing to add 20 acres which it owns immediately adjacent. Additional land for the experimental farm of the university is available, Mr. Charleville said.

A special meeting of the Burbank chamber to further discuss plans for securing the school will be held Thursday, when Glendale will be given definite information on intentions.

Campaign To Clean Up In City Launched

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce will not only join in a campaign to "clean up Glendale," but will urge that all service clubs in the city support the movement. Plans of the Exchange club for such a campaign were laid before the chamber directors yesterday by R. E. Johnson, retiring Exchange president.

Mr. Johnson asked that the chamber sponsor a campaign to clean up all vacant lots in the city, particularly in the business district, and encourage the beautifying of vacant properties. The civic committee of the chamber will work out a definite plan for the campaign within the next week.

In the meantime, letters will be mailed to all service clubs by Secretary Howard I. Wood, urging them to cooperate.

Glendale Teachers In Numbers at Institute

Teachers of the Glendale city schools heard Mrs. Nancy M. Schoonmaker speak this morning at the Los Angeles Philharmonic auditorium on "Women's Part In the New Europe." Richardson D. White, superintendent, attended a number of the section meetings on educational research.

Glendale Union High school teachers in large numbers were present today at the Los Angeles county Teachers' Institute, reported George U. Moyle, principal, and many heard Dr. Elwood P. Cubberley of Stanford speak at Trinity auditorium. The sessions of the institute will continue Thursday and Friday.

Mittens and other knit goods made in Austria are sold extensively in England and The Netherlands.

LIGHTED SIGN TO ANNOUNCE 'GLENDALE'

Advancement Society Plans For Electric Beacon Okayed by C. of C.

A huge electric sign bearing the word "Glendale," to be erected on the hillside overlooking the city, as proposed by C. W. Ingledue and members of the Glendale Advancement association, has received the endorsement of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

A communication from the Advancement association asking the support of the chamber was read at the meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon. Upon motion of Director Clark, seconded by Director Deal, the chamber unanimously endorsed the idea.

Director Ingledue explained that the sign would be twenty-five feet high and 150 feet in length, and would have 1200 electric lamps blazing the name of Glendale. It would be visible for miles in every direction, and would serve as a beacon to visitors.

Knights of Columbus Set for Turkey Raffle

The annual distribution of turkeys will take place at the meeting of the Glendale Council, No. 1920, Knights of Columbus, tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue. Money derived from the distribution of turkeys will be used to provide gifts and candy for the children at the Christmas tree at the clubhouse Sunday, December 21, at 2 o'clock. M. J. Brennan has charge of arrangements.

CRITICIZE COOLIDGE DEMOCRACY

The press here and there throughout the country is criticizing President Coolidge for refusing to make use of a special train or even a private car on his recent journey from Washington to Chicago. The point is made that, while Calvin Coolidge may travel as he sees fit, the president of the United States owes it to the country to maintain the dignity of his office. It is contended, also, that railroads take especial care to insure the safety of special trains and that nothing should be left undone to contribute to the personal safety of our president.

The American people are neither penurious nor grudging. They want their chief executive to reflect the dignity of his office. When President and Mrs. Wilson went to Europe during the war it was thought fitting that palatial quarters be provided for them on shipboard, even though the provisions made for them contrasted sharply and strangely with those of our boys who were going over at the same time.

We certainly do not grudge our president a private car or a special train, but in spite of press comment, the people are not finding very much fault because President and Mrs. Coolidge elected to get down on a level with those whose servants they are. The people generally think more of this gesture on the part of the president as an evidence of his democratic tastes than they do of the saving of a few thousand dollars.

DEPARTMENT OF AVIATION

It is hoped that the plans which are on foot to create a department of aerial navigation will receive attention at the present short session of Congress. This would consolidate the scattered aerial bureaus of the army, navy, forest reserve and postal department and place them under a single head, and would result in higher development, better co-ordination and greater efficiency and achievement.

A. H. G. Fokker, airplane inventor and manufacturer, says the only obstacles in the way of widespread use of the airplane is financial timidity and a lack of really adequate landing places. It is not a question of knowledge, but of money, and while there is much to be learned about aviation, it has really become an exact science since the war. "The airplane can do its job," says Mr. Fokker, "be it for use in war, commerce, transportation of freight or for travel."

We need aircraft for transportation, postal work, forest scouting and so forth, and it would seem that the greatest progress could be made by creating a department of aerial navigation with a secretary of aviation. France and England have ministries of the air and are building up strong air forces for war. A big air force engaged in commercial activities would serve the purpose also as a defense in case of need.

PROBLEM FOR PARENTS

A grand jury in Kings county, N. Y., recently recommended religious training and more careful parental supervision as the best remedies for prevalence of crime among the young. Parents have shirked their responsibilities, it is charged, and in some cases, by their defiance of law, have taught their children defiance of law. Parents who boast of breaking the laws of the land and who openly state their determination to do as they please in spite of laws cannot expect to rear children who will be law-abiding. And, though the parents may observe those laws that do not interfere with their pleasures, the children may not be able to so discriminate and may regard all laws as irksome.

According to statistics furnished by the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation, nearly half the males arrested in California for committing crimes the past year were boys under twenty-one, and the majority of the others were young men. Many things have been advocated to keep our youth from lives of crime, but, after all, character is the only thing that is effective, and character is the development of the inner life and cannot be developed by systems and methods. The influences that inspire boys and shape their ideals determine their character, and their character, in turn, determines their conduct.

GOMPERS' INFLUENCE

The death of Samuel Gompers, veteran labor leader, is of vital import to the entire country. He was a great leader, and though it is said that God will raise up men in time of need, it is questioned whether or not his amazing generalship can be duplicated. Gompers had a remarkably strong and forceful personality, and he devoted his life to the welfare and the prosperity of the working man. His strenuous opposition to labor becoming a political movement and his fight against the influx of European socialistic tendencies into the ranks of the American Federation of Labor helped to make him one of the strongest figures in the social movement of the age.

Labor, under the leadership of Samuel Gompers, has gained power and public sympathy with every passing year. And it is to be hoped that the influence of this powerful leader will continue to be felt among the workers of the country. The country will await the selection of his successor, hoping that it will be a man equally wise, beneficent and patriotic.

GUARANTEE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE

Action has been filed against a telephone company in New Jersey for $41,000 damages because a call for the fire department was delayed seventeen minutes. According to the complaint, the operator failed to answer. Subscribers whose homes were burned take the position that the company had guaranteed efficient service.

The progress of this suit will be watched with interest. The telephone is, perhaps, the greatest convenience that we enjoy and we have come to depend upon it so completely that delays and failures in the service are aggravating if not actually accompanied by baneful results. The outcome of this suit is vital to telephone companies everywhere.

IMMIGRATION TROUBLES

Australia is becoming somewhat agitated because of the increasing immigration of southern Europeans. The last batch to arrive was a company of 1200 Jugo-Slavs, who, being unable to gain entrance into America, were diverted to Australia.

Australia has an arrangement with Italy whereby no passports will be issued to Italian immigrants unless Australian residents will undertake their supervision and maintenance until they are employed. Australia is watching the American quota system closely, although not approving of the system. Canada and South American countries are having immigration troubles also.

HIS MONUMENT!

Philosophy

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is a classical story of a little boy who was walking out with his father one day and saw a cow. He said: "What is that, Papa?" The answer was: "That is a cow, my son." Whereupon the lad inquired: "Why?"

This boy was a philosopher.

A philosopher is one who wants to know the reason of things. He is not satisfied with appearances.

Everyone is some kind of a philosopher, that is, he has some kind of philosophy, for a philosophy, after all, is but a working plan of life, and you cannot live without having some sort of plan.

There are those who regard philosophers as entirely useless and themselves as eminently practical, but underneath every sort of practicality there lies a philosophy. Someone has said that everyone is born a Platonian or an Aristotelian. Which is to say that everyone is born with some way of looking at things. He will look at them from either the East or the West.

What we call common sense is but the shreds of philosophy or its remnants. It is philosophy that has been tried out and reduced to a commonplace where all can handle it. It is philosophy made understandable to the whole people.

We cannot all be great thinkers like Immanuel Kant. But at least we can all think clearly if we try and, after all, it is clear thinking and not great thinking which is required of the world.

It is essential to clear thinking that we should not accept anything as so until it is clearly proven. The moment we accept someone's ipse dixit we have opened the way to all manner of credulity.

If everyone would be honest in saying "I don't know," and stick to this statement until he did know, there would be less of false philosophy in the world.

After all a philosophy is a system of thought. It is an endeavor to arrange the universe in an orderly fashion so that it can be comprehended by the mind. Most education consists in the ability to classify, for classification is the shortcut to knowledge. When this classification is, in a measure, complete, one may be said to have a system of philosophy.

Horoscope

Again astrologers read in the stars aspects of doubtful import. While Jupiter is benefic in aspect, Saturn is strongly adverse.

There is the best possible promise for business enterprises, but real estate dealings may not be so fortunate today as other lines of trade.

Jupiter is in a place most favorable to the president of the United States, who should find many helpful conditions operating.

The sun forming an adverse aspect with Saturn is unfavorable for any matters that should terminate quickly and may cause delays.

Hindrances and disappointments may be numerous at this time when it is well to cultivate a serene state of mind.

Astrologers call attention to the fact that the progressed sun of President Coolidge has reached the same degree of the zodiac as the natal sun of Charles G. Dawes, which is a sign of great promise for their joint administration.

There is a sign presaging decided differences of opinion, however, between the President and the Vice-President.

The evening of this day should be an auspicious time for correspondence of all sorts, for study and intellectual pursuits.

In the new year there is to be remarkable progress in many branches of literature, it is prophesied.

This should be a lucky day for making short journeys and especially for travels toward the homes of relatives.

Much precipitation appears to be forecast for many parts of the country, so that a white Christmas is promised in states where there is usually snowfall.

Persons whose birthdate it is have a fortunate forecast for money and business, but they may be annoyed by letters and legal papers. Children born on this day should be generally successful in all their undertakings. These subjects of Sagittarius are usually quick-witted and even brilliant.

Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found, each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Word 1. What the man and girl are doing in the picture.

Word 4. To get onto a horse's back.

Word 5. A girl's name.

(Running Down)

Word 1. Each of them is equal to two nickels.

Word 2. What one kind of words are called in your grammar lessons.

Word 3. Having chewed and swallowed.

Today's Poem

SOLDIER, REST!
(From "The Lady of the Lake")
Soldier, rest, thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows no more.

Dream of battlefields no more,
Days of danger, nights of waking.

In our Isle's enchanted hall,
Hands unseen thy couch are strewn.

Fairy strains of music fall,
Every sense in slumber dawning.

Soldier, rest, thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows no more;

Dream of fighting fields no more;
Sleep the sleep that knows no more.

Morn of toil, nor night of waking.
No rude sound shall reach thine ear.

Armour's clang or war-steed's champing,
Trump nor pibroch summon here,

Mustering clan, or squadron tramp.
Yet the lark's shrill life may come

At the daybreak, from the fallow,
And the bittern sound his drum.

Booming from the sodgy shallow.

Ruder sounds shall none be near,
Guards nor warders challenge here.

Here's no war-steed's neigh and champing,
Shouting clans, or squadron's stamping.

—Sir Walter Scott.

Who's Who

On that day when everyone has an automobile and city streets become finally impassable, the most widely used model may not necessarily be the one that made Detroit famous, M. Andre Citroen.

See no reason why it should not be the car that is already as well known in France as its Fordian counterpart in the United States.

M. Citroen long ago won the title of "The French Ford" by being the first in this country to turn out motor cars of standard model in immense quantities and according to the latest modern methods of efficiency engineering.

But his career has points of dissimilarity from that of Mr. Henry Ford.

Like the latter, M. Citroen be-

Let Us Move Your Savings Account

When you came to Southern California, you may have left in the "bank back home" a Savings Account. Perhaps, when you came, you could not move the money without the loss of interest. Perhaps you preferred to leave it there, in a bank you know is safe, until you could choose an equally good bank out here.

Whatever the reason you left the account there, there is no reason why you should not move it, January 1, to the Security Bank, here. If you will come in now, in advance, we can arrange so that your whole account, with interest to date, will be credited to your account in this Bank, and will begin drawing interest from January 1. Do this in ADVANCE, and you need meet no cost of exchange or loss of interest.

FIELD SPORTS PLANNED BY WOMEN

Athletic Club Arranging Tournaments During Next Year

Tournaments and field days will feature sports to be included in the activities of the Women's Athletic Club during the coming year, according to plans discussed yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the board of directors and department chairmen at the new home of Mrs. Paul E. Webb, 145 Harvey drive. These plans and plans for the formation of new classes in the various departments, reflect the growth of the club and the active interest of the members. Members present were:

Mesdames J. H. Toal, Dick Michel, C. M. Conklin, L. L. Cra-ven, J. J. Campbell, Ruth Wind-rem, E. L. Osborne, R. E. Corri-gan, George G. Smith, Virginia Farr and Dr. Harriet Farnham. Mrs. Webb was presented with a boudoir lamp.
Mrs. Toal presided over the business hour, when reports were given by officers and chairmen. Mrs. Farr announced that there will be a club hike Monday after-noon, December 22. The party will meet at 3 o'clock at Harvard High school. From there they will motor to the Farr cabin at Tujunga. Later they will hike to the top of Mt. McGroarty. They will have a picnic dinner at the Farr cabin, arranged by a special committee. Each one attending will take cup, plate and spoon. They plan to return to Glendale at 6 o'clock.
Mrs. Toal announced the club will meet at 2 o'clock Friday after-noon at the Harriet Mae Tea room. It will be in the nature of a tea. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. N. C. Payne, Glendale 4117.

New Loan Company Is Organized by Bankers

made on the monthly payment plan.
After the building is completed, and probably for sale, many property owners prefer a straight three year first mortgage loan. Such first mortgage loans will be taken over by the State Bond & Mortgage Co., returning the money to the Building & Loan association for the financing of more new buildings.

Prevent Crime

Regarding the plan of opera-tion of the State Bond & Mortgage Co., D. H. Smith, president said:
"A noted authority has said 'Give every family a home with lawn, flowers, and trees in front and a garden in the rear and crime will disappear in two gener-ations. The home owner is a tax-payer and therefore is a more de-liberate and discriminating voter. A home owner is a better em-ployee, a better husband, a better father, and a better and more use-ful citizen of the community.'"
"Thousands of people come to Southern California from the middle west, and have not been accustomed to dwelling in apart-ment houses. The majority have lived in towns where they have enjoyed all the advantages of a home of their own. They can never be content in 'cliff-dwell-ings' and make an attempt to buy or build their own homes as soon as they have become settled here. The only check which is placed on home ownership is through lack of funds to finance home building.

To Provide Funds

"The fundamental purpose of the State Bond & Mortgage Co. is to provide funds for home build-ing for everyone wishing to live in Glendale. In no other way, I believe, can we better promote the solid property and progress of this community. Every dollar spent for home building benefits not only the building trades and building supply dealers, but di-rectly or indirectly, every line of activity in the community, from the newsboy to the banker.
"During its two years of opera-tion, the Golden State Building-Loan association has done splen-did work in assisting the home-builder. Through additional capi-talization and facilities for rapid turnover of loans, we will be able to enlarge and supplement ma-terially its activities. As time goes on, these two institutions working together will become a steadily increasing factor in the prosperity and welfare of Glen-dale and everyone who lives and labors here."

Underwood Continues Muscle Shoals Fight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Further charges that ulterior motives prompted an editorial in the Washington Herald attacking his Muscle Shoals bill as "another Teapot dome," were made on the floor of the Senate by Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama.
"Last Saturday I said that there was a powerful lobby working here and that ulterior motives prompted the editorial in the Herald," declared Underwood. "Today I have proof as to part of the lobby," he added.
He then read from a bulletin issued by the National Fertilizer association which he charged "the farmers of the country regard as the head of the fertilizer trust."

AUTO DEALERS WILL GUIDE INDUSTRY

Manufacturers In Preparing For Shows Guided By Public Demand

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Auto-mobile manufacturers in every producing center are busied with vigorous preparations for the New York and Chicago shows. But the trend of the industry in 1925 is going to depend more on what the dealers tell the manu-facturers about the possible sales demand than upon the new models the manufacturers are able to show dealers and the public.
Many of the big companies have already brought their stock models for 1925 and the changes, according to engineers in close touch with developments, will consist mostly of "refinements" although some artistic souls will not regard the flashy colors of the new bodies as coming under that head.

What the dealers tell the manu-facturers, however, may affect prices and rates of production and may decide the fate of several rumored consolidations. It has become evident that output of cars and trucks in 1924 will be approximately 10 per cent under 1923 production. Preliminary figures for the first 11 months show production of 3,343,570 vehicles. Estimating December output at 225,000, as against 248,113 in November, brings the total to 3,593,570 as compared with 4,108,000 in 1923.

It has become evident that winter sales would not be as heavy those of a year ago and some price cuts have been put in effect to stimulate production. Whether those price levels will be allowed to stand, will depend on the volume of consumer demand with which dealers are supposed to be in close touch.

Mergers Hinted

There have been indications as the year draws to a close that some companies might consolidate to coordinate sales facilities, and cut overhead and manufacturing costs. But if consumer demand is heavy in the early part of 1925, indicating that there is business enough to go around, some prices may be increased and the long expected era of consolidations and mergers may be postponed to another year.

Manufacturers have not lost faith in recuperating power of the industry and are confident that demand is still far from the saturation point. Their experience in 1924 substantiates this. The outstanding achievement of the year was the disposal of a vast stock of cars without seriously affecting the market or bankrupting a single important company.
The year started with nearly every company working at capacity in anticipation of bigger business than in 1923. It soon became apparent such business was not coming. Huge stocks of cars were piled up. At one time in the spring there must have been 225,000 Ford cars and possibly an equal number of all other makes unsold in the hands of the makers or their dealers. This is nearly twice the normal "float."

Midsummer this vast amount of merchandise was disposed of, and without upsetting the industry financially. This is regarded as one of the remarkable feats in the history of American industry and emphasizes the extreme flexi-bility of production machinery as well as the absorptive power of the public.

Store Experiment

The experiment of Macey & Co., large department store mer-chants in providing free garage space for customers' cars, which went into effect today, is being closely watched both for its effect on the automobile industry, on traffic and on department store merchandising. Cars of those shoppers who drive themselves are taken to the garage by store chauffeurs and returned when the shopper is ready to leave. A rest room is provided for customers' chauffeurs where they may wait calls from their employers.

The merchants insure custom-ers' cars against theft, fire or damage while in the garage and between the garage and the store if the car is driven by a store chauffeur.
Secretary Hoover told the Na-tional conference on street and highway safety meeting in Wash-ington today that it was high time something was done to eliminate waste in life and prop-erty caused by traffic difficulties. He said he was convinced the conference could make construc-tive suggestions of the greatest importance but the remedy could not be accomplished over night.

Big Passenger Liner To Be Built in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The United States shipping board has approved the plan of the Ameri-can-Hawaiian Steamship Co. to build a passenger liner at a cost of $6,560,000. The ship is to be built by William Cramp & Son of Philadelphia, Pa.
According to present plans the ship will be 582 feet in length, 83 in width, with a displacement of 20,000 tons, capable of a speed of 22 knots an hour, with accom-mo-dations for six hundred first class passengers. This is the largest passenger ship contract ever awarded an American shipbuilding firm from the United States.

NEW CLUB NAMED AFTER GLENDALE

Proposed Iroquois Athletic Body Changes Name to Include City

The name of the Iroquois Swim-ming and Dancing club has been changed to Glendale Athletic club, as proposed by members of the club, and work is progressing rap-idly on the club building, Arden street near Central avenue. Con-struction work started Monday. The estimated cost is $75,000. The contract was let to a Glen-dale firm, and all laborers will be Glendale residents.

In building the Glendale Ath-letic club, it was announced today there would be no intention on the part of the management to realize profit from the sale of the memberships, allowing for the dues to take care of all expense, and leave a small margin of profit for the managing of the club, at the least expense possible to those participating. These dues include all privileges, such as swimming, gymnasium, dancing and club rooms.

Swimming Feature

Among the many indoor games that have become so popular of late years is swimming. In Cali-fornia its popularity has grown by leaps and bounds, due in a great measure to the mild all-year-round climate, many beaches and pools. However, the one ob-stacle in the way of continued popularity of this sport is the lack of sufficient indoor sanitary plunges to accommodate follow-ers of the sport.

The pool in the Glendale Ath-letic club will be one of the finest in Southern California, and B. F. Brennan, head of the organiza-tion, has secured the services of William McInnis, considered one of the best promoters of swim-ming, dancing, gymnastics and other sports, who will create an atmosphere of fun at all times. There will be carnival nights, wa-ter polo, racing, physical culture and other sports, without extra charge to the members.

Shoe Workers Demand For Increase Denied

HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 17.—The Haverhill Shoe Board of Arbitra-tion has denied a petition of the shoe workers' protective union for a general wage increase in the niggerhead and sole laying opera-tions of shoe manufacture on the grounds that general slackness in the industry makes any increase in cost of production inadvisable.

Pastor Urges Proper Respect for Christmas

A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, is in re-ceipt of the following self-explan-atory communication from Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church:
My Dear Mr. Cowan:—As you well know, I have never offered an adverse criticism of your valuable newspaper, whose growth and fine spirit I have noted for eight years. Yet, I am sure you desire your readers to offer constructive criti-cism, and I am led to do so, not in respect to your paper, but in regards to newspapers and busi-ness men and others. This letter is sent at this time because it re-fers to a "bad habit" of the Christmas holidays. It is need-less for me to protest the nearly entire commercializing of the most holy and religious holiday of our entire calendar. This fact is all too obvious to us all, and, I think, is deplored by most of us.
The matter to which I wish to call attention may seem trivial to some, but is most vital. I have seen it charged that there has been for many years in certain quarters a deliberate attempt to discredit the background and rea-sons for this great Christmas hol-iday, and one of the means has been to substitute wherever pos-sible the term "Xmas" for "Christmas." Surely space is not so precious in newspaper head-lines, in display advertising and on billboards and sale signs, and time is not so short, that we need to be careless and disrespectful of Him whom we must honor on this festive season. Christmas is the birthday of our Lord Jesus Christ, and it seems to me that, in celebrating His birthday, we may be forgetting Christ alto-gether. He is not an unknown quantity, which the term "Xmas" suggests.
May I not kindly and without it seeming to be presumptuous on my part protest against the pro-miscuous use of this term? I wish some of our splendid news-papers would boycott the use of this unworthy term from their headlines, etc.
I would be glad if you would publish this, if it doesn't seem to be a criticism of your paper. It is not meant to be.
With very best wishes for your continued success, I am
Yours most sincerely,
CLIFFORD A. COLE.

WOMEN HONORED AT MEN'S SOCIAL

Church Brotherhood Hosts To Opposite Sex at Program, Dinner

Women of the Central Avenue Methodist church were honor guests at a dinner and social meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the church, held last night at the social hall, seventy-five people being present. Dr. Lincoln A. Fer-ris, pastor of the First Methodist church, was speaker. His talk was on one's personal views and get-ting out of the narrow and pro-vincial way of thinking. He said many people regarded themselves as citizens of a certain town or city, instead of thinking of them-selves as citizens of the world.
He related a personal experi-ence, stating that at one time he had viewed the stars and planets through a highpowered telescope, which showed how differently they looked. He said each indi-vidual was only a small part of the universe, and that each indi-vidual should not confine his or her interest to one community, but have a world view.
Community singing of Christ-mas hymns was enjoyed under leadership of W. F. Shiner, pres-ident of the brotherhood, who also presided at the meeting. A Christmas solo was sung by Don-ald Kline, member of the Trinity Methodist church choir, in Los Angeles, and a brother of Rev. Leo C. Kline, pastor of the Cen-tral Methodist church. Dr. Joseph Marple sang "The Birth of a King."

Program Enjoyed

C. H. Muhleman, when called on to speak, said the gathering was held to honor the women, and closed his talk by reading four limericks which he had written especially for the occasion, and which were complimentary to the women.

Harry Meyers, chairman of the social committee, had charge of arrangements for the gathering and was assisted by members. The holiday season was hinted in the decorations of the tables. A fea-ture was a large Christmas tree, brilliantly lighted. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, prepared by the members of the Men's Brotherhood. Ten young men of the church acted as waiters.

CHAPTER LXVII

"If they do," Lord Yeovil remarked grimly, "I must resign at once from my position as Chairman of the Pact and probably from the Premiership of Great Britain. A refusal under the present circumstances would be little less than an affront. You have this matter very much at heart, Grant."

"I'm an American and I am fond and proud of my country," Grant answered. "I pose as being an idle millionaire. You know I'm not. I never worked so hard in my younger days, when I was Second and eventually First Secretary, or went through so many disagreeable moments as I have during the last eighteen months. I don't fancy my next six months will be any easier. I am going to do my level best to bring the truth home to the American people and to show up the plot which I am convinced is being organized against us. If I succeed I shall come straight back to Europe and, if I may, I shall come and pay you a visit."

Lord Yeovil held out his hand. Probably at that moment the same thought was in the minds of both men.

"You have my best wishes, Grant," he said cordially.

Grant walked with his departing guest to the gangplank and waved his farewell as they backed away into the harbor and swung round. Very soon they were heading for the open sea. The wonderful little bejeweled principality of intrigue, of fierce excitement and strange happenings grew fainter but not less beautiful. The sun was streaming down upon the snow-streaked mountain peaks, the white-faced villas, the deep masses of green, the garish but curiously attractive front of the Casino. Grant breathed a sigh of relief as the coast line faded away and the west wind took them into its embrace. There were ten days at least of freedom—ten days in which to arrange his thoughts, to prepare for the next stage of the struggle.

He lunched early, dozed for an hour in the afternoon, read for a little time, and discussed the question of coal supply with the chief engineer. They made careful calculations and to Grant's relief, came to the conclusion that a call at Gibraltar would not be necessary. He was suddenly feverishly anxious to reach New York, to see his friends at Washington, to gauge for himself exactly the feeling which would be created by this fateful invitation. The solitude of the open seas appealed to him immensely. He sat on deck for a while after dinner, in a sheltered place, listening to the rush of the wind and watching the stars make a fitful appearance. As the breeze stiffened they altered their course slightly and showers of spray sometimes swept the deck. He turned in early and slept soundly although every now and then he was haunted by a queer sense of some unusual sound—unusual yet not sufficiently distinct to awaken him. In the morning, he turned out at his usual hour, quite unconscious of the fact that he was so soon to be brought face to face with tragedy. He took his bath of warm and then cold sea water, strolled on deck, breakfasted in a sunny corner, and lit a pipe. After an hour or so he strolled aft on his way to the chart room. As he passed the companionway he glanced in, gripped at the door, stood stupefied, speechless, aghast. Still wearing her wonderful cloak, her satin shoes and slippers, her eyes weary but passionately questioning, came Gertrude.

"If you please, Grant," she said, "I want my clothes."

His words, even to himself, sounded pitifully inadequate.

"It was rather difficult," she admitted. "I had a lot of luck. Can I have some coffee or something? I haven't had anything since I came on board."

"When was that?" he asked.

"Four o'clock yesterday morning. I'm starving. I was afraid you'd hear me crying in the night."

"Good God!" he groaned. "Come down to my room. You

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Only 38" opens tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre and will show each night for the balance of the week, the curtain rising at 8:15 o'clock. Audiences last week voted this a highly entertaining play and one of the best the Dobinson Players have yet put on.

Included in the cast are Gertrude Keller, Olaf Hytten, Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, William H. Stephens, Thyra Ruhland, Gertrude Rothe, Richard Ehlers and George C. Pearce. Among some of the Glendalians appearing in the college scene are Helen Anderson, Winifred Anderson, Edwina Rothe, Harry Glazier, Maurice Widdows and Harold Telfry.

"Only 38" is from the pen of A. E. Thomas, one of the most popular dramatists in America, and deals with the lighter aspects of college life. It is noted for its comedy situations and clever characterizations.

mustn't let them see you like that."

She followed him down to his own quarters. He shut the door, watched her sink into a chair, and stood over her.

"Tell me about it," he said simply.

"After we got home," she began, "and they made me play roulette until two o'clock—Otto was simply brutal. I couldn't bear it any longer, and the thought of your going, I gambled once before in life, you see. I gambled again. I gave Ottilie, my maid, all the money I had. She packed a trunk for me and addressed it to you. It came on board with a lot of other things. It must be somewhere about. That was easy enough. The difficulty was to get her myself. I borrowed a chauffeur's overcoat, put it on over all my things and a cap that hid my face. I walked up and down the docks for an hour, until I saw a chance. Then I came down the gangway, slipped along the empty side of the deck, got down the companionway—I had to hide twice behind doors—but eventually I got to the door of the stateroom which you said you kept for any special guest, and which I knew wasn't to be used this voyage. I crawled in, locked the door, and lay down. I hid there and waited. It must have been about four or five o'clock yesterday morning. I heard all the people come on with stoves. I heard

THE GATEWAY

Adele Clark thought money was everything. Slaving away with the pots and pans of her aunt's dingy boarding house, with scarcely a nickel to call her own, Adele was sure money would buy beauty and romance and freedom. She didn't stop to think what money might do to her wistful romance with Tim Sullivan.

So when fate tumbled a huge fortune into her lap she whisked out of the squalid Brooklyn neighborhood where she had known so much of hard work and privation, off to a fashionable boarding school up the Hudson, thence to a beautiful villa in the Italian Alps.

Along came a prince. Fate dealt a few cards off the bottom of the deck and the first thing she knew, Adele was a princess, tricked into marriage by a scheming band of social conspirators.

What a picture for Bebe Daniels' debut as a full-fledged Paramount star!

It all comes about at the Gateway theatre on Wednesday, where "Dangerous Money" will hold forth. There is also a fine program of select vaudeville.

The great cast includes Tom Moore, as Tim Sullivan, who loves Adele (Miss Daniels) so much that he sacrifices his own hope for an early wedding so that she can travel and get a glimpse of Old World culture in Italy.

Uncle Wiggly

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE PRETTY BERRIES

Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy crept down stairs in the hollow stump bungalow one morning, carrying on the end of her tail a basket. "How do you do, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggly, though he knew quite well how his muskrat lady housekeeper was, since he had seen her only a little while before at the breakfast table. But he just asked that to be polite.

"I do very well," replied Nurse Jane. "But I wish you would do something for me."

"What is it?" asked the bunny uncle.

"I wish you would go to the woods and get some pretty berries," said Nurse Jane. "I want to make the bungalow look nice for it will soon be Christmas."

"Do you want red holly berries?" asked the rabbit.

"No, it is too soon to gather the holly berries for Christmas," Nurse Jane answered. "Any kind of pretty berries you see in the woods will do for now—blue berries, red berries, green berries—any kind."

"I'll go look for some," said Mr. Longears. "But why is that basket on the end of your tail? Are you going after eggs?"

"No, I brought this basket for you to bring back the pretty berries in," answered the muskrat lady. "Gather as many as you can."

"I shall," answered Uncle Wiggly, and with a jolly twinkle of his pink nose, taking the basket on his paw, off he hopped over the fields and through the woods.

With his bright eyes he looked on each side of the path for pretty berries. Most often Uncle Wiggly looked for cabbage or carrots to eat, but this time he was looking for something else. And soon he spied a bush on which were growing pretty red berries.

"These aren't holly berries, but they are very nice," said the rabbit. "I think they will be just what Nurse Jane wants. I'll gather the basket full for her."

But when Uncle Wiggly went to reach over and pick the pretty red berries, he found that they grew on a very sticky prickly bush, full of thorns, and the thorns began to scratch him.

"Dear me!" exclaimed the bunny. "I didn't know they were there!"

"Ho! Ho! And I didn't know you were here, but I know it now!" suddenly cried a savage voice, and out from behind a rock sprang the Bob Cat, with his silly little tail. "I'm glad you are here, Uncle Wiggly," said the Bob Cat, "and I am going to nibble you. Don't look so sad about it."

"Oh I wasn't looking sad about that," spoke Uncle Wiggly. "What then?" the Bob Cat wanted to know. "Why are you sad?"

"I am sad because I can't get Nurse Jane any pretty berries off that bush," said Uncle Wiggly, pointing to it but not telling the Bob Cat it was a sticky bush.

"I'll pick some berries for Nurse Jane," offered the Bob Cat, "and then I'll nibble your ears." With that he jumped right into the middle of the sticky bush to get the red berries. Of course the thorns stuck him all over. "Wow! Zow! Scott!" howled the Bob Cat and he squirmed and twisted so that he tore loose with

A Glendale Institution, Organized by Glendale Bankers and Business Men for the Building of a Greater Glendale

IN every growing community like Glendale, there is a constant demand for funds for financing the construction of homes, apartments, and business houses.

To meet this urgent need the Golden State Building-Loan Association was organized in Glendale two years ago. Its success has been outstanding and immediate. Assets today have grown to over $500,000. Its operations have enabled hundreds of people to become home owners in Glendale, creating business for the building trades, building supply dealers, the merchant, the banker, and every other line of business.

In order to enlarge and extend the activities of this established and successful Glendale institution the STATE BOND & MORTGAGE COMPANY has been organized by the same high type of conservative bankers and business men.

The same capable and experienced management will supervise both institutions, and supplementing each other the two Companies will be of even greater service to the city of Glendale.

The success of every financial institution rests squarely upon the integrity, experience, and sound judgment of the men who are its guiding force. The officers and directors of the STATE BOND & MORTGAGE COMPANY and the Golden State Building-Loan Association include the most representative bankers and business men in Glendale. Each one has made an outstanding success in his own business. All are thoroughly familiar with local real estate values and with the making of mortgages.

In line with the policy of many large and successful corporations, the stock of the State Bond & Mortgage Company will be distributed among many individuals, thereby securing the support and co-operation of many interested stockholders. An unusual opportunity is now available to the citizens of Glendale to associate themselves with these men in the ownership of the company.

A limited amount of this stock may now be purchased, subject to prior sale, as follows:

10 shares of Preferred, Par Value $100 per share.
5 shares of Common, with no Par Value.

The present price of each 10 shares of Preferred and 5 shares of Common is $1000.

8% DIVIDENDS

Investors in these shares will receive a dependable income of 8% on the Preferred Stock. In addition, the Common Stock, which costs nothing at the present time, but which is expected soon to be worth more than the Preferred, will participate in the entire profits of the Company above 8%.

Exempt from State Tax, and Normal Federal Income Tax.

Those who seize the opportunity presented at the beginning of this Institution are undoubtedly the ones who will receive the greatest returns.

BIG DISTANCE RADIO WORK REPORTED

Glendale Youth Carries on Lengthy Conversation With Argentina

Feats of Billy S. Pigg, 17-year-old Glendale Union High school boy, in long distance radio work, have gained recognition not only throughout the United States but as far away as Buenos Aires, Argentina. A "marked copy" of La Nacion, Buenos Aires newspaper, with half a column given over to a description of a conversation carried on between the Glendale boy and Carlos Braggio, one of the only two radio senders in the Buenos Aires district, has just been received by the parents of the youth.

Billy "talked" with the South American capital on the night of November 11, successfully completing his call and carrying on a conversation for nearly an hour. He performed the feat with extremely low voltage, which makes his accomplishment more remarkable.

In commenting on the "conversation," La Nacion points out that the distance covered nearly 6,000 miles, was one-third over daylight, but that the South American operator was able to distinguish every word clearly. Billy explained that long distance during daylight is extremely difficult. It was the first time in a number of months that Senor Braggio had been able to get the North American Continent. Only once previously had he communicated with the United States, the paper stated.

Hears Australia
Other notable accomplishments of the Glendale boy have been four successful communications with New Zealand which is 7,000 miles distant. He has heard Australia, 8,000 miles away, and is just now preparing to attempt a conversation with the Kangaroo station.

Billy has been a radio "nut" as he terms it, since he was 12 years old. For the past three years and a half he has been a licensed sender. He has his station in the rear of the Pigg residence in a specially built, separate room. On the walls of the room are hundreds of acknowledgement cards, received from radio stations all over the United States and many from South America, New Zealand and Australia. Operators who have heard Billy. It is the custom to send a postal, giving details, whenever a long distance station is heard.

Billy is a member of the American Radio Relay league and regularly receives messages and re-relays them to their destination. Three nights ago the Glendale boy picked up a call from Dundun, New Zealand. The message was for Denver, Colo. Knowing that chances of Denver hearing the message were not as good as his, but having no pencil with which to take it, Billy used a pen knife to cut the message into a piece of paper. He got every word and was able to relay it to its destination.

"There are half a dozen amateur stations in Glendale," Billy said, "but only one that's had as good success as I have. That one is 6BJ, owned by Albert Ewald, 615 North Geneva street. He has heard New Zealand several times also. We hope during the Christmas holidays to even better our present accomplishments, as it won't be so hard staying up all night as when we have to go to school and we will have more time to work. No chance of getting long distance during the day time. Once we have carried on conversation with stations half way round the globe, which is 12,500 miles, we will have gone as far as is possible and will have to start trying for long distance on low voltage."

WEAR HEADRESS

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The modern young woman not only dons her war paint in the evening, she puts on her helmet. The latest headresses for evening are in the form of caps which still show some of the hair, and which are made of gold leather, silver cloth, pearls, rhinestones and sparkling sequins. Some even have a short silver visor shading the eyes.

U. S. AIR LINE MAY CIRCLE WORLD

Assistant Chief Of Army Service Drafts Plan For Operation

By FRED J. WALKER For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Plans for a gigantic government operated freight and passenger air line linking important centers of the United States and later extending to South America and Asia are being drawn up by Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, he announced today.

The project which calls for organization of an air craft corporation similar to the Inland Waterways corporation of war times would be capitalized at $3,000,000 and would be under the direction of the war department.

The purpose of the project as outlined by General Mitchell would be the "developing and commercial flying to show what the cost would be so that private lines could buy the government holdings when public interest was aroused."

Planes can be built today that could go anywhere in the world. With proper equipment the flight from New York to Peking via Canada could be made in sixty or seventy hours, General Mitchell said.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Dec. 17.—Turkeys so large that they could not be roasted in ordinary roasters were purchased by the Parent Teacher association for the first of the Christmas school dinners served in the cafeteria of the La Crescenta school. Satchell Brothers, of the Blue Bird cafe in Montrose, roasted the huge birds gratis, and donated twenty-five pies for the dinner, and the P-T. A. thanks the Satchell Brothers for their generosity. Large portions of turkey, potatoes, gravy, cranberry jelly and celery were placed on each plate. Pie and rolls also were served free to the children, the dinner costing them the nominal sum of 10 cents. About sixty pies were donated by the mothers in the valley. A corps of mothers assisted in serving the dinner, including Mesdames S. B. Young, W. Stine, W. Burt, H. Reynolds, W. Plesker, W. Hodensack, Vernon Hall, P. Miller, Montague Cleaves, G. Sharp, Mary B. Darrow, and the president of the P-T. A., Mrs. C. W. Angler. Mr. Hodensack of the Verdugo City meat market carved the turkeys.

After the feast a program was given in the auditorium of the school by the different grades, the first number of which was the playing of "America" by the new orchestra, with the audience singing. Other selections by the band were "Old Hundred," "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More," which was a good joke, as the rain then was pouring down; "Holy Night," "Oh Day of Days," "Nazareth," were rendered by the Girls' Glee club, composed of Ruth Keith, Marjorie Wildhack, Elizabeth Talbot-Martin, Geraldine Linville, Evelyn Sears, Ruth Reynolds and Ethel Hurl. "Christmas Dreams," a charming little playlet in two acts, was enjoyed. Outstanding was the work of Virginia Plesker as Evelyn, Marguerite Goss as Mrs. Santa Claus, Morton Porteous as Santa, Evelyn Sears as Mammy of the pickaninny troupe, Elizabeth Burt as Sally Crosspatch, Alene Mehard as Selfish Sue, George Wadley as the Sandman, and Joan Angier as Beth. Others were Ruth Anderson, Maxine Hunt, Freddie Jones, Mary Key, Edith Caskey, Jane Gordon, Robert Stoner, Judith Ann Jones, Miriam Jones, Martha Graa, Jean Babcock, Genevieve Wenger, Virginia Titus, Russell Nylan, Philip Stine, Norman De Hoog, Jack Stine, Harold Pruden, Mary, Barbara and Eleanor Marks, Carl Key and Todd Mulford.

The Christmas tree used in the second act was heartily received by the children. During intermission the orchestra scored the hit of the afternoon by playing "Over the Waves" under the expert leadership of Mrs. N. Brown. Members of the band are Eileen Karr, William Sprinkle, John Hansen, Milo Sprinkle, Stella Benjamin and Edward MacDowell. At the conclusion of the program the orchestra went to the Montrose school, where they contributed to the success of that school's program.

Each teacher of the La Crescenta school was the recipient of a bouquet of violets, the gift of the P-T. A. School will open again on December 29.

Tonight the Verdugo Hills post, No. 288, American Legion, will elect officers for the coming year in the La Crescenta schoolhouse, where veterans will hold a chow meeting. Captain Harry Inaway of Victory post, Los Angeles will be the guest of honor. Command-elect T. Watson of Glendale post, No. 127, Adjutant MacWain and W. H. Regelin will be speakers. Commander Sullivan of the local post, will reside. LeRoy Smith, contact officer of the Veterans' Bureau in Los Angeles also is expected. Adjutant Baron of the Verdugo Hills post reports the "Buy a Brick" campaign is going along splendidly, while the Women's Auxiliary is getting baskets ready for the sick veterans of the valley. The women will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. P. McCarton, corner of Glendale and Honolulu avenues. A number of hiking parties are being planned by the young folks

Richard L. Shaw Is Entertained In City

Richard L. Shaw, superintendent of the Colorado state motor vehicle department, Mrs. Shaw and their daughter, have been guests of Mr. Shaw's mother and sister Marion, of 143 South Glendale avenue. The mother and sister came to Glendale twenty-five years ago. While here Mr. Shaw and his family visited his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dewey. Mr. Shaw took interest in investigating the California motor vehicle department and its operation while here, gathering much useful information for his work in Colorado. He has also served as state prison warden for several years and while in California visited several of the prisons. The family was greatly impressed with Glendale as a home city. Mr. Shaw stated that he thought Southern California was destined to possess more people in a few years than all of New York or Chicago. He said he had never seen so much congestion of traffic as he observed in Los Angeles. The Shaws left for their home yesterday.

BOY SCOUT FEAST PLANNED BY CLUB

Navy Chaplain to Be Honored Guest and Speaker on Tuesday Night

Announcement was made last night at the meeting of Glendale Knights of Pythias in the lodge hall on South Brand boulevard at Park avenue, that a banquet will be held next Tuesday night in the hall for the Boy Scout Troop 1, of which Hal E. Leedom, vice-chancellor, is Scoutmaster. Chaplain Jones of the U. S. Navy, is to be honored guest and speaker. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock to the Scouts and Pythians.

Banquet Served

After the meeting a banquet was served. Past Chancellor George H. King presided as toastmaster, introducing Ed Hawkins of Hollywood lodge. Mr. Hawkins spoke on "Pythian Friendships." Other speakers were Messrs. Richey, Goode and Dempsey of Hollywood; Mr. Bartlett of Oregon; Messrs. Richardson, Berry of Van Nuys; Messrs. Fram, King, Hibbert, Brown and Cal Nicholson of Glendale. Joe Griffin gave a humorous talk.

Glendale lodge will visit Van Nuys lodge Thursday night, leaving the local hall at 7 o'clock. A short session of the Glendale lodge will follow the Scout banquet next Tuesday night.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor Lulu: I cannot keep still any longer. I have intended to let you know of my case for some time, but I could not express myself in few enough words to escape the waste basket. But later I said to myself: 'Here goes.'"

"Last November I was 60 pounds overweight, in the midst of the menopause and scarcely able to do my housework. As to comfort, I had none! To stoop, nearly burst my head; I puffed so that I dreaded to climb the stairs. My feet and limbs were swollen. If I would walk around the block, my head would ache and my heart would go like the 'put-put' of an engine."

"Our family physician said: 'You must reduce.' But how could I? I didn't eat too much. So I went to another M. D. to hear the same advice. But—this one asked me to follow your course. I did, and your book has been my salvation. Slowly I began to go down until I lost 50 pounds! My feet do not swell and I have no indigestion, no heart poundings, scarcely a hot flash."

"I cannot remember when I have felt so well. I am very small boned and my figure is the envy of some of my friends who are members of the F. F. F. My friends also tell me how much younger and better I look. I want to go a few pounds under normal. But it's fruit time and I am still weak."

"God bless you, Dr. Lulu. May you be spared many years to spread the wonderful work that brings health and happiness to all overweighters that have any will power. That's all you need, Mr. Mrs. and Miss Fat.—Mrs. C."

Many of the symptoms of the menopause in women who are overweight are due to overweight. That we have proven many times, and now you are another example. You did not state how rapidly you reduced, but you probably went very slowly: that is why you look so well. One should look, and does look, much younger after reducing, if it is done carefully. During the process there may be a drawn look, which must be combated with good cosmetics and facial treatments, because the adverse comments of friends may weaken the morale."

It is not so much the will power, Mrs. C. as it is the want power. You have got to want to reduce and then you will have the

Rebekah News

Plans for the public installation of newly-elected officers of Glendale Rebekah lodge, to be held Tuesday night, January 6, were made at the meeting of Glendale Rebekah lodge last night at the Odd Fellows hall. Venona Borden, noble grand, presided at the meeting. Della Hause of Los Angeles, district deputy president, will be present and act as installing officer. Committees were appointed for the dance, which will be held at the Odd Fellows hall on Tuesday, December 23. Mrs. Rosella Strother, Mrs. Evelyn Hall, Mrs. Marjory Pease, W. Groutage, and Dan Hall, were appointed on the hospitality committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rich were appointed to have charge of the punch bowl. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Plum orchestra of Glendale. Rebekahs, Odd Fellows and their friends are invited to attend the dance. Plans were also discussed for the card party on Tuesday night, December 30, by members of the Past Noble Grands association. Mrs. Evelyn Hall has charge of arrangements for the card party, which will be a benefit affair.

Plan Social Affair

A Christmas party for members of the Neighbors of Woodcraft and their friends will be held on Tuesday night, December 23, at the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. Entertainment is being arranged for the evening by Mrs. Adelaide Meyers, chairman, with the assistance of Mrs. Longmeyer and Mrs. O'Donnell. Mrs. Laura Chrisman, is chairman of the refreshment committee, with Mrs. Pauline Dooze and Mrs. Park assisting her. A Christmas tree will be a feature of the party.

Birthday Surprise

Miriam Hall was happily surprised last night, when she was honored at a birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hall. Games and music were the entertainment features. Guests were Misses Viola Johnston, Helen Hibbs, Marie Griggs, Meredith Brown, Marion Huron, Miriam Hall and Ralph Hibbs, Eugene Hibbs, William Buckley, Robert Chrisman, Harold Chrisman, Ralph Shawhan, Mr. and Mrs. C. Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hibbs.

Xmas Meeting

The Christian Circle club will hold a Christmas meeting and dinner at the First Methodist church tomorrow night at 5:45 o'clock. Humorous songs will be arranged for those attending. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist church will be the speaker of the evening. Special musical numbers and readings will also be given.

Meet at Hollywood

Members of the Double Six Bridge club will motor to Hollywood tomorrow afternoon, where they will hold a meeting in the home of Mrs. J. Dolph.

FACE MASSAGE No. 1

A lot of nonsense is written about face massage, and a great deal more practised. It is true that a really skilled masseuse can treat your face a great deal better than you can do it yourself, but I have found very few that I would consider skilled in my visits to numerous beauty shops. To be skilled, the woman who massages the face should understand every muscle under the skin, every important blood vessel, and a lot about the muscles and nerves of the throat and the spine as well.

You will not need such elaborate massage anyway, unless you are very old and wrinkled, or unless you are badly run down. Nourishing creams, the application of heat and cold to draw the blood to the face, and stimulation of any gentle massage will really improve you as much as you could wish. You must remember to lift the muscles of the face, and go, in most cases, across wrinkles of the place where a wrinkle is about to come. So many astringents are made now, to draw the skin tight for a few minutes, that massage can almost be eliminated, except that it is invaluable for working cream into the pores.

Begin your massage at the chin. Rub round and round the neck of the chin, and work the cream into the cleft under the lip where large pores form. Then stroke hard under the chin and down the throat. Then spread the cream over the mouth and up across the cheek to about the middle of the ear. Work from the jaw bone to the ear. These two are the important motions in massaging the lower face, for the first danger is wrinkles around the mouth, and these motions tend to counteract them. The skin should always feel warm and refreshed after any massage, and should be quite pink. If you have used hot water applications before the cream, that is bound to happen.

Catharine T.—An egg shampoo to remove dandruff is as follows: Rub into the scalp, all over very evenly, the yolk of the egg whenever the dandruff is the worst, and use the white of the egg or the whole egg beaten together, over all parts not needing special care. Allow time for the egg to shampoo using your soap lather. The egg will easily dissolve in the suds and leave the scalp completely cleared of all particles of dandruff or dead skin. This shampoo will also leave the hair very soft and glossy.

Brown Eyes—Try equal parts of ammonia and peroxide for bleaching the hair on your arms and legs.

Tomorrow—Nature's Cosmetics.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Class Election

Election of officers took place at the meeting of the Loyal Woman's Bible class of the Central Christian church yesterday afternoon with Mrs. C. J. Linderman, 533 West Stocker street. Officers elected are: Mrs. C. F. Archer, president; Mrs. M. F. Bolen, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Bennett, secretary; Mrs. Guidinger, treasurer; Mrs. Eva M. Hutton is teacher of the class, Mrs. Amanda Praxler, pianist, and Mrs. O. L. Kilborn, chorister. Plans for giving Christmas cheer packages to members of the Central Christian church congregation, who are ill and are unable to be out, were also made. Gifts will probably be distributed Christmas eve. Christmas decorations were used to make the rooms of the Linderman home attractive, a Christmas tree being one of the decorative features. The tree was decorated with ornaments and was lighted for the occasion. Gifts for each one present were distributed by Santa Claus, who was impersonated by Mrs. D. F. Bolen. Refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served later in the afternoon. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 20.

Canadian Dance

Another of the popular Canadian club dances will take place tomorrow night in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. According to Dr. Edwin H. Armstrong, club president, the dance will provide funds for the Christmas entertainment, December 22 in the American Legion hall on East Broadway. Tomorrow night music for dancing will be furnished by Kelly's Shrine club orchestra. The Christmas party promises to be a brilliant affair for Canadian families. There will be a Christmas tree, bearing presents and prizes for the children.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Inez Supple, 220 North Louise street. Mrs. Harry Greenwalt will have charge of the program for the afternoon. The meeting will begin at 2 o'clock and Mrs. C. W. Bacon, president, will have charge of the business session.

Holiday Dance

Plans for a New Year's Eve dance to be given at the Knights of Columbus clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue, under the auspices of Glendale Council, No. 1920, Knights of Columbus, are being made. A. J. Mailloux and George Kellinger are members of the committee making arrangements for the affair.

Drama Department

Members of the drama department of the Tuesday Afternoon club will have a Christmas party Friday afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, 624 North Central avenue, instead of the regular department meeting. A Christmas program is being arranged for entertainment.

Mr. Moulton is touring the state with a party of friends and has gone north for a visit.

Meet at Church

Women of the First Presbyterian church were well represented in numbers at the regular meeting for December of the combined societies held yesterday in the church social hall. A program of unusual interest held their attention during the hour devoted to foreign study. Miss Eunice Harris of the Near East Relief gave a talk on the work in Syria, Persia and Armenia illustrating with stereopticon slides the work among the orphans left homeless by the World war. She pictured the buildings, and the daily routine of life in the immense orphanage, where 2,000 children are now sleeping in the open, with caked coats their only shelter.

She exhibited an interesting display of articles from Armenia, carded wool, fine linens and handwork of various kinds. Mrs. Geo. Cribbs read a letter just received from China from Mrs. Cleland B. McAfee, who is making a tour of the direction of the foreign mission board. Mr. Skinner gave a two-minute talk on work in India, where her daughter served in foreign work. Mrs. J. A. Newton read a letter from Florence Mitchell Wylie, who is now en route with her husband to the foreign stations in India, the massive being mailed in Calcutta.

Mrs. Wansell, who has spent twenty years in Punjab, gave a short talk. Mrs. George McDill, vice-president of the missionary society, presided as chairman in the absence of Mrs. A. D. Smith. Mrs. George Lemon led the devotionals, choosing the subject of "Prayer." Mrs. J. M. Eyre, president of the general society, conducted a business meeting. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock by the members of Circle 5, of which Mrs. M. A. Hogan is chairman. The work meeting scheduled for the afternoon was omitted in deference to the funeral service of the late Asa Hall.

Study Literature

The Women's Relief society of the Latter Day Saints church met yesterday afternoon at the Knights of Pythias hall, corner of South Brand boulevard and Park avenue, for the regular meeting. Mrs. Viola D. McIntyre is president of the society. Literature was observed at the meeting, the study being conducted by Mrs. Pearl A. Heimiller and Mrs. Mary Burkholder on the life of Edgar Allan Poe and his poetry. Members of the society took part in the discussion.

Christmas Party

Mrs. E. Payson Hayward of 1635 Del Valle drive, Verdugo Woodlands, and Mrs. Durham W. Porter were hostesses to Chapter C. J. P. E. O., at their regular meeting and a jolly Christmas party yesterday at the Hayward home. A delicious Christmas luncheon was served at small tables decorated with red candles and Christmas holly. A short business meeting was held. Mrs. J. L. Onstott presiding. Mrs. R. L. Bockock, entertainment chairman, directed the delightful program of the afternoon. "Chapel Himes," piano solo by Miss Grace Crampton, was followed by a reading, "The Christmas Carol," from Charles Dickens, by Miss Martha Cox; Mrs. J. T. Crampton sang two old-time Christmas carols, one of them English, the other French. The chapter joined in chorus singing of "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "O, Come All Ye Faithful" and "Joy to the World." An exchange of gifts by the chapter brought to a close a pleasant afternoon.

Court Has Party

Gathered about a glittering Christmas tree, generously laden, members of Ionic court, Order of Amaranth, and their families had dinner and enjoyed an informal social time last night in the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard. Compliments are being showered on Mrs. Gertrude Baldwin and her assistants for the delicious dinner served to seventy persons. Later in the evening Santa Claus, impersonated by Mark C. Denman, was received. Entertainment features were a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Emery, a poem by Mrs. Julia Woodruff, grand associate royal matron; vocal numbers by Mrs. Nana King Custer, Mrs. Thelma Leaton, D. Ripley Jackson, Lura Boyd Baldwin and piano numbers by Katherine Emily Custer. The next meeting of the court will be in January. All members of the court and Sunshine club shared in the pleasure of the Christmas party.

Entertains Aid

The Aid society of the Central avenue Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Goodsell, 125 West Palmar avenue. Mrs. Charles Evans, president conducted the business session, when matters of routine business were transacted. Mrs. Leo C. Kline, sang a Christmas song, as entertainment for the afternoon. Refreshments were served at the close of the business meeting and a social time enjoyed. The hostesses were Mesdames Augustus, Charles Evans and Besant. The next meeting will be held January 20.

Good Cheer Party

Mrs. John H. Leaton of 708 West Pioneer drive was hostess Monday night to the Good Cheer class of Vernon avenue Methodist church, Los Angeles. She entertained thirty-six guests. PLAN TO REMOVE LID AT TIJUANA

Reports Indicate Games of Chance to Be Allowed
At Border Town

TIAJUANA, Mexico, Dec. 17.—The lid will be taken off here and open gambling resumed within the near future, according to rumors afloat here.

Governor Rodriguez, former governor of Lower California, is reported to have been reinstated as governor by President Calles and is en route here from Mexico City with permission to allow gambling to be re-opened.

Gambling which included dice, wheel of fortune, chuck-a-luck, blackjack, stud poker and other games of chance which it is claimed will be re-opened at the Foreign club and Casino very soon.

The lid, except for slot machines and race horse betting, was clamped tight on Tia Juana, by former President Alvaro Obregon about nine months ago. When gambling was allowed here before it proved a magnet for chance-crazed throngs over the week-ends with the majority of the crowds coming from Los Angeles.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—It begins to appear that Rickard and Firpo have come to ground again. Also light begins to dawn as to reason why Renault made so poor a showing against Romero Rojas in Boston.

In brief Romero is being built up, maybe he caught Renault out of condition in Boston and then again maybe he did not. Anyway when a fledgling ex-college heavy can punch Romero around it sounds a little ridiculous to think of the Chilean tying a can to Renault. Then again, the decision may have been a poor one.

Anyway, word now is that Firpo will meet Romero at the Garden this winter and a big battle for the South American title which is now held, according to report, by Romero.

Angered by the wild bull's poor showing against Weiner, the South Americans are alleged to have hooked back to the time when Firpo refused Romero's challenge for a battle and have used this as an excuse to deprive Firpo of his crown and place it on the Chilean's expansive bean.

As for Tommy Gibbons, his plans again seem to be in the air, that is his immediate plans. He was to have met Sailor Mated in the south but now it seems Tommy has changed his mind. Mated is very much liked and admired in Florida where the bout was to have been held. And he has been improving as a fighter. Whether or not this made any difference to the St. Paul fighter is problematical but the writer cannot see that Mated has anything of which Gibbons need be afraid.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Whatever may have been the original idea behind the series of resolutions adopted by the National Association of the National League and the American League endorsing Commissioner Landis, baseball's politicians of the east and other close students of the game are agreed that the present tendency of the campaign on the part of some of the leaders is toward the retirement of Ban Johnson as president of the American League.

The resolutions have been seized upon by Johnson's enemies as something with which to work to have him deposed by Commissioner Landis, who, of course, is the only individual in official capacity who has any authority to take action. The American League is just beginning to realize some things about the granting of power individually in baseball and some of the owners are beginning to intimate that if their league is to be attacked, there must be a house cleaning in the National League.

Not much else than what has happened could have been expected since the meeting of the minors at Hartford. The trend since then has been steadily toward a conflict of opinion in the major circuits.

It is certain that any radical move will leave behind rankling bitterness that never will be forgotten. The American League already is beginning to assert that the National League not only is patronizing, but is threatening it, and while the National League may have nothing of the sort in mind it will be difficult ever to persuade the American leaguers that that is the case.

The latest factor to come to light in the situation is the possibility of a third league. The move is very much under cover just now, but if both the majors should happen to make the situation just right, there are men who are quite willing to make a try at the establishment of a circuit that will raise Ned with the class AA leagues and pave the way for another of those delightful scraps that the national game has revelled in the past.

The very optimistic reports about business in the majors in 1924 have engaged the attention of the speculators again and the good business done in the regular season, combined with the extraordinary financial success of the world series, has aroused the money making instincts of sports backers exactly as the same thing has happened before.

A leader might lay his plans and bring about enough of a disturbance to bring more wrinkles to the brows of men who have had experience with the upheaval of re-organization and who know what a vexing problem it means for them.

While Johnson has made his enemies in baseball and has offended many by his autocratic ways, the present thinly veiled attack upon him is turning some sentiment in his direction, showing the instinct of the American league to take the part of the under dog.

It is urged by his friends in the east and not denied by his enemies that Johnson has always been a hard fighter for honest baseball and that seems paramount to anything else that may have to do with politics that may be said against him. The fans are not much on politics.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Governor Richardson has about as much faith in that 12-round boxing law as Mexico has in horse thieves. He hit L. A. on all six yesterday. His secretary carried two bags full of applications for membership to that comish he's supposed to appoint to see that boxers don't carry off stadium in addition to all money taken in. The Gov says those 12-round stanzas won't last over two years. He looked into a crystal globe and saw Fred Fulton laying down again.

Governor doesn't think boxers in California box straight. His two bags contain hundreds of names whose owners think they can make 'em straight. Out of these hundreds Governor has to pick three to serve without pay with hired secretary.

Governor never imagined so many men were scrambling for a job that pays less than value of German mark. Maybe that's the reason he's skeptical about 12-round stanzas lasting more than two years. Ask some of these applicants who are willing to work two years for a convict's pay check to help you on with your coat and he'd think you were trying to get something for nothing.

Ask that same guy to move over in a street car and he gives you a look that would make a sphinx wince. But—that same guy whose application set forth that he roomed with Kid Queensberry when the Kid roped off the first arena and saw 'em make the first set of six corners, wants to tell California in particular, and the world in general, how much spilled blood spells victory at the ringside.

Fools rush in where wise men stay out. Governor Richardson found this out when he offered the big job to several whom he thought fitted as far as integrity was concerned to sway the boxing comish. They turned him down cold. They don't want any Fred Fultons stretching themselves in the 'best harem style for them to investigate and be investigated.

Governor Richardson apparently reasons that he was elected by the people not by prize fighters and he thinks he should devote some of his time to the people. However, as the best reporters say to make it possibly for copy readers to exist, "pigs is pigs" and "laws is laws" and they have to be enforced before they're broken.

It is suggested that while the Governor is in Los Angeles he might call a meeting of the gunmen now wintering there, and appoint a commission from their number. They could sleep all day, preside at the ringside until 11 bells then it would just be time for them to add three or four notches to their guns for L. A. police to worry over. It would keep both the gunmen and the police busy.

They could size up the house doing their duties at the ringside and figure out beforehand just what their guns would bring without causing undue annoyance to their victims.

If the Governor will take a suggestion from Ye Ed he can have it for what it isn't worth. Here goes. Bob Edgren, sporting editor of the New York Evening World, a California resident, owning property in Glendale, and spending much of his time in Glendale, really knows what boxing is all about. Bob would make a square-shooter, if that's the kind of a man Governor Richardson is looking for.

As a matter of fact the four-round affairs have gone over without much "dirt" unearthed and without a commission. These commissions are important only because the law says so. You can't make a fighter fight any harder or any less or lay down any offer with a commission sitting along side the ring.

But—as Governor Richardson reasons, they are a necessary evil and the quicker he disposes of the whole business the quicker he can make room in his traveling bags for some other business of importance to the few millions in California.

Boxing NOTES

Spud Myers came from behind and won the decision over Pat Mills, English lightweight, last night at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena. Mills took the first round, the second was even, but Myers carried the third and fourth easily. Ernie Owens and Kid Mexico battled to a draw in the semi-windup. Joe Schlocker had an easy time winning over Ernie Moak. Sailor Hendricks copped the verdict over Red Williams. Ad Rubidoux won over Joe Pimental. Red Holloway knocked out Billy Edwards in the first round. Babe Harris got the nod over Sailor Murratt.

FOOTBALL

Has the University of Missouri a punch? The Missourians clash at Los Angeles Christmas Day with "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's University of Southern California football players and unless Santa Claus has put some tricks in the old Missouri stocking the visitors are due for a defeat. Lack of a punch enabled the Trojans to triumph over Syracuse in the first inter-sectional post-season game of the season.

Syracuse, if it had anything concealed in the well known "tricky" bag, possessed no Bunty to pull the strings.

There were several times in the latter stages of the game when the Orange men were in striking distance of the Los Angeles players' goal but they made no attempt to uncork anything desperate or out of the ordinary.

Instead the Trojans had the kick. Entering the last period with a 9 to 0 lead, Henderson's men got the ball to Syracuse's 25-yard line on the fourth down.

Fourth down and ten yards to go.

"What'll I do?" Captain Johnny Hawkins sang to himself. He tried for something different—a sock in the jaw—and it won. A long forward pass put the ball over for a touchdown.

Southern California will be entirely on its own against Missouri.

The middlewesterners have not been scouted, and Henderson knows nothing of their style of play.

"Gloomy Gus" is biting his nails and trying to work up some new Trojan stuff. He succeeded in showing a brilliant eleven against Syracuse and he certainly will have as clever a crew when the Snow-Me gang trots onto the field. Missouri has nothing to worry about.

Kris Kringle is bringing them one of the pleasantest trips on tap and they get a split of the game's profits—probably $40,000.

It may not snow in California but Santa Claus comes just the same. Ask Missouri.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Football devotees of the west coast are praying peculiar prayers these days. They are praying for rain on New Year's Day—that is, rain in Berkeley, but fair weather in Pasadena.

If it rains there is a chance that the California-Pennsylvania game will be put over until the following Saturday and that enthusiasts who wish to see both the Stanford-Notre Dame and the California-Pennsylvania contests will thus have an opportunity of doing so.

Andy Smith, the coach of the bears, has already expressed himself as favoring a change in the date of the Berkeley game. He, of course, wants to see Rockne's team and if his own golden bears have to play on the same day that the teams of Rockne and Glenn Warner meet he will be out of luck.

Suppose however the Pasadena game is staged as scheduled on New Year's Day and the Quaker-Bears battle on January 3. In such event Andy Smith, and some 50,000 fans, could run down to Pasadena and see the four horsemen try their speed against Warner's outfit, returning in plenty of time to see how the Gold diggers fare again: the powerful Red and Blue team.

Incidentally just about $200,000 hinged on the accuracy of Cuddeback's toe when he kicked the goal which tied the score for Stanford in the California game. Had Cuddeback's kick failed the University of Southern California, or possibly the Washington huskies would have been Notre Dame's opponent at Pasadena. But by tying California Stanford split the Pacific coast championship with the Bears and thereby made of herself a post-season attraction.

In dollars and cents it means not less than $200,000 added to the Palo Alto athletic fund, which by the way showed a great deal of red ink this year because of the cancelling of the contest with Southern California.

The Pasadena contest will be handled entirely by Stanford; she will rent the tournament of roses stadium and the receipts at the high prices to be charged are not expected to fall below $400,000.

Recommends Passage Of Present Navy Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Supporting the view of President Coolidge, Representative Burton L. French, Republican of Idaho, in charge of the 1925-26 navy appropriation bill declared in the House that the United States navy is adequate for the defense of the nation. French urged the passage of the pending bill, representing a reduction of $10,000,000 under appropriations for the current year.

WALTER CAMP SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The committee appointed last June by President George Wightman of the United States Lawn Tennis association to consider the much debated "player writer" rule has brought forward in its report to the executive committee a plan which looks like a very reasonable solution of a problem that seriously threatened to disrupt tennis ranks.

The report, approved by the executive committee, and now awaiting action by the parent body, provides that the writer may not use his title in connection with his writings, that he may not give current reports of tournaments in which he is a participant and that he may not use his title in motion pictures nor receive remuneration from posing in tennis pictures.

He may, however, continue to contribute articles of the sort that everyone recognizes as real assistance to the development of tennis play and advancement and may write freely on any subjects other than tennis.

Some sore spots of course will continue to exist even if the report is adopted by the tennis association. They had been rubbed raw in the various personal tilts arising from the quarrel over player writers. But these will heal in time and they should be given every opportunity to heal as quickly as possible.

BOWLING SCORES

The J. W. Tucker, Jr. team outrolled the Red Feathers last night at the Recreation alleys, the Tuckers taking the first and third games by wide margins. Taylor of the winners shot consistent ball, getting 225, 205 and 200, for a total of 630. The scores:

Storage Capacity Of Elevators Grows Less

DULUTH, Dec. 17.—Approximately 12,000,000 bushels of storage space remains in local elevators to take care of the winter movement of grain from the country to this terminal. The aggregate capacity of the elevators here are rated at 38,000,000 bushels and it is thought they will be filled early in the year.

POETRY SEEN IN MOVING AUTO CAR

U. S. Educational Head Tells Importance of Training In Vocations

By EDWARD H. ZIEGLER
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 17.—The poetry in a moving automobile or a blazing incandescent lamp—the perfect symphony of parts that harmonize more than musically with each other—is as beautiful as “essays that live and poems that endure.”

The inventor whose mind can develop the plans for such a symphony of material things, and turn them into fact, deserves a place among the immortal poets and artists as truly as Ralph Waldo Emerson or Rodin or John Ruskin.

This is the belief of Dr. John S. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, who told the world about it last week at the convention of the national society for vocational education in session in this city.

There is as much art in the managing of an incandescent light as in the painting of a picture, Dr. Tigert said, paying tribute to the great American inventor, Thomas Edison.

Materialism, the dangers of which have called forth warnings from three presidents in succession—Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge—he praises.

False Distinction
“A false distinction has been drawn between the fine arts and the industrial,” he told his listeners. “America needs to be called to the realization that there are spiritual values to those things done by the hands as well as to those done by the minds—for hands cannot function without minds to direct.”

To the end that there may be more “poets of the machine” to make life more simple and more beautiful for those who cannot understand that other sort of art, Dr. Tigert recommends vocational training for every American. Not all will profit by it—but who knows, he suggests, what artists may be discovered with a little training, whose power would have been unknown without some help to bring it out.

To Edison he paid homage as “the greatest living example of what vocational education plus a thirst for cultural education, will accomplish.” There are thousands of Thomas Edisons in the world to be discovered in time, he said.

Autoist Appeals From Police Court Findings

C. W. Stevens of Los Angeles will appeal from the verdict of guilty brought in December 9 by a Glendale police court jury, on a reckless driving charge. The defendant, who had been out on $100 cash bail, appeared yesterday afternoon before Judge Frank H. Lowe to receive sentence. When he was ordered to pay a fine of $100, he requested a new trial.

Judge Lowe denied the request, whereupon Mr. Stevens filed notice of appeal to the Los Angeles superior court. Leslie R. Tarr, city prosecutor, who successfully prosecuted the case, will argue the appeal before a superior court judge.

In the past year, Mr. Tarr said today, he has argued successfully a dozen or more such appeals, losing but one case in that time. He hopes to convince the superior court judge that Mr. Stevens has no adequate grounds for a new trial.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Reports that powerful banking and railroad interests were carrying their contentions to the floor of the stock exchange today caused a mild sensation on the big board. Control of Lehigh Valley was the immediate bone of contention, and offers to buy the stock precipitated a scramble in which prices were rushed up to $5 for a gain of 7 1/2 points today and an advance of 11 1/2 points above yesterday's low. It is known that the New York Central and the Pennsylvania roads are desirous of linking up with Lehigh Valley in the new alignment of transportation companies ordered under the transportation act, while Baltimore & Ohio wants Reading and Central of New Jersey.

Railroad shares were thus the leaders in the forward movement of prices today, with the better grade of investment stocks being taken in large blocks. The northwestern rails responded to continued improvement in the great agricultural sections and the reports of heavy movement of freight in that territory. Admittedly, the market was somewhat speculative, but the dividend rate is to be increased, though directors of the company deny that any such move is contemplated. New York Central stocks and convertible bonds sold at the best prices for the movement.

The industrial and specialty stocks were uniformly strong and active.

Stock sales today, 1,924,100 shares; bonds, $14,434,000.

C. C. Directors Pass Resolution of Regret

The following resolution on the death of Councilman Asa Hall was adopted by the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at its regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon:

“Whereas, there has departed from among us one of our most highly esteemed citizens and officials, the late Asa Hall, trustee of the city of Glendale, and

“Whereas, he was a highly conscientious, able and devoted servant of his city and fellow citizens and had also given meritorious service in civic affairs to our sister city of Los Angeles, now therefore,

“Be it resolved, that we tender to his wife and family this sincere token of our great regard for an exemplary citizen and a high-minded official, that we express our appreciation of his constant and never failing help and co-operation in all things for the good of his home town, and that these resolutions be drafted in full on the minutes of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, that a copy be sent to the city officials of Glendale, and to the bereaved family.

DUCHESSE FACING WORK IN CABINET

Parliamentary Secretary of Education Will Have Plenty to Do

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The Duchess of Atholl, Parliamentary secretary of education in Premier Stanley Baldwin's government and the first woman to hold a position in a conservative government, is looking forward to a strenuous time in her new office.

Judging from the first impressions the Duchess says that she certainly thinks she is going to have it.

Finding that her duties occupy all her time, she has been compelled to relinquish her positions on multitudinous committees, such as those of child adoption, women's work, etc.

She will probably have to do a fourteen-hour day during the time that Parliament is sitting. In addition to the ordinary routine work of the department, she will have to be in attendance at the House of Commons to answer questions relating to education matters, and, if education is being discussed after 11 p. m., will have to sit through such a debate until the House rises.

Los Angeles, Dec. 17.—Gov. Earl Friend W. Richardson is host today to many legislators who are discussing with him contemplated measures to come before the state legislature at Sacramento next month. The governor also is interviewing applicants for the state boxing commission. In circles close to the governor it is said he will appoint a very satisfactory trio despite propaganda designed to embarrass him.

Reports made by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce today reveal that more than a billion and a quarter manufactured articles are made in Los Angeles metropolitan area annually with a round 600 industrial firms locating here in the last year.

Numerous auto accidents with two dead were reported during the last twenty-four hours as the result of slippery streets.

In an involuntary petition of bankruptcy filed in federal court by creditors of E. G. Lewis, noted promoter, it is alleged that he owes more than $3,000,000. He charges a plot on the part of creditors who seek less than $10,000. Another petition seeks to declare the Osborne-Fitzpatrick Finance corporation, promoters of Valhalla Memorial park near Burbank, a bankrupt.

It is alleged a $10 option was the sole investment by the firm until it started selling more than $3,000,000 worth of cemetery lots in a 117-acre tract through various subsidiary organizations, according to the indictments charging four officials of the company with fraud.

When the California Limited of the Santa Fe arrives in Los Angeles Saturday will have the first “smoking car for women,” according to the publicity department of the Santa Fe.

Because of great interest evidenced in trials here by people who have nothing better to do than “hear the evidence” the Los Angeles county judges are protesting to the Board of Supervisors that there is not sufficient seating capacity in their courtrooms in the new Hall of Justice—and it's a six million dollar building. The board may consider charging an admission to reduce taxation costs for the show.

Another naval investigation is under way at San Pedro. Death of a sailor has caused inquiries into the source of illicit poison booze.

Richard Pennell of 532 Commercial street, who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, was sentenced this morning by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court to pay a fine of $500. He paid the fine and was released.

Charles Adams of the same address, who was arrested with Pennell by officers of the Glendale police department in a raid on the premises Monday night, and who likewise pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, this morning was given a suspended sentence of six months in the county jail, and was released. His sentence was made more severe by Judge Lowe by reason of an additional charge against him of attempting to destroy the evidence.

HONOR AGED FRIEND
SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 17.—The grave of Richard Grant, who died heartbroken when his street scraper ran over and killed a little boy, today is banked high with floral tributes of children who were friends of the old man. “Uncle Dick” was grief-stricken shortly after the incident held for 8-year old Joaquin Contreras.

VISITS JAIL, LOCKED UP
SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 17.—When Domingo Latanza, a rancher, visited the city jail with Tony Bastanchury, who has a contract to feed the prisoners, he failed to follow Tony out. By the time Tony realized his friend was missing a new desk sergeant was on the job and he took several hours to get the visitor from behind the bars.

MYSTERY WOMAN HELD
SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 17.—Referring to her husband as “the brute,” a mysterious woman who gave her father's name as John Gebout was brought to the Glendale hospital here from Little Mountain where she was taken in custody by sheriff's deputies. She has asked her release to continue her journey after to Needles and it will be granted.

IN ROSE TOURNAMENT
SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 17.—While this city will not enter a float in contest for first honors with Glendale, it will have a decorated automobile in the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena January 1, it was announced today.

FAVOR COPS PAY RAISE
SANTA ANA, Dec. 17.—The chamber of commerce here has gone on record favoring an increase in pay for policemen and other city employees. A committee was asked to wait on the city council and recommend an increase of $20 monthly to $165 for patrolmen.

Heavy Damage Results From Fire In Plant

CALUMET CITY, Ill., Dec. 17.—One man was seriously injured and property damage estimated at $500,000 was done here in the plant of the United States Chemical Organic Products Co. The fire is believed to have started from a glue, gelatin and fertilizer department.

Last Call Issued for Republican Club Meal

Reservations for the dinner reception to state legislators under the auspices of the Glendale Republican club will be closed tonight. All those wishing to attend tomorrow night will have to have their reservations in by tonight, according to President R. S. Person of the Glendale Republican club, as the seating capacity of the Episcopal church guild room is limited. Only a few more can be accommodated, he said.

Mr. Person also announced that J. Arthur Myers will lead community singing at the Harvard High school between 7:45 and 8 o'clock, when the speaking program will commence. The dinner and reception will be from 6 until 7:30 o'clock.

Ship Owners Fail To Realize On Shipments

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—Vessel men who hoped to obtain fancy rates for moving grain down the lakes after the official close of navigation seem doomed to disappointment. They had persuaded the government authorities to keep one week of the Soo open from 6 p. m. Sunday night when the water way was to have been closed, until December 18 if weather permitted. Cargoes for this late movement, however, loaded at the rate of 5 1/2 cents a bushel or 1/4 cent lower than the rate which had obtained early this month. In addition they were forced to pay an advance in insurance rates of about 1 per cent on hull and cargo.

Verdugo Wash Served With Whisky Cocktail

Fifteen gallons of confiscated whiskey and several gallons of wine mingled into a weird cocktail yesterday and was swallowed by the Verdugo wash. As a chaser, the thirsty criminal drank a heavy downpour of rain. Lieutenant W. J. Boyle of the Glendale police department was bartender. The liquor was destroyed by order of Chief John D. Fraser, after it had served its purpose as evidence against a number of bootleggers and their customers who have lately fallen within the clutches of the local police.

LIONS HEAR PLEA TO GIVE SERVICE

Return to Individualism Is Needed In Country, Says Luncheon Meeting

A return to “the splendid individualism that made our country” was advocated today at the weekly luncheon meeting of the local den of Lions, by H. V. Adams, escrow officer of the Glendale Savings bank. The meeting was held at the Egyptian Village cafe, 133 North Brand boulevard.

Choosing “B. Kelly presiding” for his topic, Mr. Adams argued in a forceful address that true reform comes slowly and that “congressional hocus-pocus” is not the panacea some people suppose it to be.

“Socialism is ‘let dad do it,’” he said. “Individualism is ‘let me do it.’ You can't shift the burden from the backs of individuals to the back of society. What men need is not to be served but to serve—and there is no other way to success. To give and not to get is the only philosophy.”

Wants Golden Rule
Mr. Adams argued for the golden rule of “give, serve and love,” and not the “iron rule” of socialism, which, he declared, tries to compel men to do the right thing by their fellow men.

President Kelly appointed J. R. Grey and E. P. Beggs to represent the local den of Lions on the assessment board of twenty members, called into being by the City Council to co-operate with the Los Angeles county assessors in making the 1924-25 tax valuations on property within the Glendale city limits.

The club donated $5 to the fund being raised by the American Legion auxiliary and other organizations to bring Christmas cheer to the disabled veterans at Sawtelle. The remainder of the $18 collected last week for charitable purposes will be distributed to needy local families, it was decided. This action was taken after Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president of the Legion auxiliary, and Mrs. George Kaeding had spoken in behalf of the fund.

Music was furnished by Harold Korn and Miss Bernice Brainerd.

NO DECISION REACHED ON LISTING

Realtors Postpone Action On Proposed Plan Until Next Wednesday

After half an hour's lively discussion the Glendale Realty board adjourned today without coming to a final agreement on the adoption of the multiple listing system proposed and advocated by the multiple listing committee headed by J. I. Wernette.

Mr. Wernette discussed the proposed system further at the session today and discussion was heard from a number of the board members.

A halt was called by President W. L. Twining at 1:30 o'clock when he announced that the entire meeting next week would be turned over to further discussion after which a final decision would be called for. Speakers today were in the main in favor of the change in the multiple listing system which calls for a group of realtors, large or small, according to the number wishing to join. Who will jointly list and advertise their properties and will co-operate in making sales.

Explains Titles
C. E. Snow, expert on Torrens' titles, spoke at today's meeting at the Egyptian Village cafe, explaining the purposes, workings and other features of such titles. President Twining announced that the first meeting each month would be set aside for business and the second in charge of the program committee, the third turned over to the associate members and the fourth in charge of the program committee. Months where four weeks occur will be open forum discussions will occupy the fifth week's meeting.

The board adopted a resolution favoring proposed legislation calling for definite plans for the further development of the national capital at Washington, D. C.

Corn Crop Lower But Total Value Higher

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The corn crop of the United States in 1924 amounted to 2,436,319,000 bushels, with a farm value of $2,405,468,000 on December 1 as compared with 3,053,557,000 bushels in 1923, with a value of $2,217,229,000, the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture announced. The production per acre was 23.2 bushels on a total acreage of 105,012,000 in 1924 as compared with a yield of 29.3 bushels per acre on an average of 104,324,000 in 1923.

Plans Murder Charge For Alleged Gunman

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—Despite the fact that coroner's jury returned a verdict finding that Walter W. Power, automobile salesman, found slain in his parked automobile, came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted “by persons unknown,” the district attorney said he would file a murder charge against Matthew Decker, asserted New York “gunman.” Decker is held here in jail.

PANTOMIME OUT DOORS PLANNED

Famous Stage Director to Put on Play Auspices Community Service

Under the direction of Gabriel Ravenelle, exponent of the art of pantomime and a former stage director with David Belasco, Charles Frohman, William H. Crane and others, a Christmas pantomime, "Eager Heart," will be presented next Wednesday night, Christmas Eve, as a feature of the Community Christmas program at the Harvard High school grounds.

The play has been rearranged to suit its presentation in the open air on a temporary stage to be erected in front of the high school building. The story is an appealing allegory expected to be an attractive addition to the Christmas program.

Twelve players will take part, with Mrs. Roy Russell of Burbank reading the story. Music by a double quartette from the Glendale Choral club and by the Glendale Symphony orchestra, directed by J. Arthur Myers, will be features of the entertainment.

Nationally Known
Mr. Ravenelle, whose work in pantomime is nationally known, has taken charge of the presentation of "Eager Heart." He agreed to assist in Glendale through the efforts of the Glendale Community Service, which is in charge of this annual Christmas Eve program, designed as a gathering for the entire community.

Besides acting as a director with Mr. Frohman and others, Mr. Ravenelle has appeared with Robert Edson, Maude Adams, Blanche Bates, Donald Robertson and the famous French actress, Madame Pilar Morin. He came to Pasadena recently as a worker for the Southern California Elsteds.

Other numbers on the Christmas program will include songs

Movie Actress Bobbed Hair Is Passe In Paris

Despite many published reports to the contrary the bob is still the rage in Paris, according to Carmel Myers, motion picture star now in Europe. "I haven't had my hair cut," she says in a letter just received in Hollywood. "But that isn't because of a change in styles, but because of a personal preference. Every time I have a marcel the hairdresser begs me with tears in his eyes for permission to shorten my tresses."

Education Board and Trustees Call Meeting

The Glendale Union High school Board of Trustees and the Glendale city Board of Education will confer tonight, in joint session, with representatives of civic organizations, service clubs and P. T. A.'s, on the report rendered before the two boards last Thursday night by their joint committee on school expansion. The meeting will be held at the Broadway High school, starting at 8 o'clock, reported Albert D. Pierce, president of the high school board, who joined with Mrs. Eva C. Barr, president of the elementary school board, in making the announcement.

The decision to bring representatives of leading Glendale organizations into conference, which is understood to involve expenditure of a large sum of money, was decided at the meeting last Thursday night at which time it was voted to withhold publication of the committee's findings until after tonight's meeting.

UNIQUE BAGS

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—At last it has become apparent where some of the wonderful Gobelins tapestries go. They are being cut up and used piecemeal as inserts on flat silk bags. Sold in this way they bring more than the most optimistic antique dealers could credit.

by a chorus of children and adult singers. A Christmas tree will be displayed.

CHAMBER MAY NOT LEAVE COMBINE

Commerce Body Reconsiders Withdrawing Activity In Valley Union

Reconsideration of their action in withdrawing from the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley, will be given by the directors of the Glendale chamber following an urgent request on the part of the former organization that Glendale remain a member.

L. T. Rowley, former representative of the Glendale chamber at associated chambers meetings, appeared before the directors yesterday afternoon and conveyed the request that Glendale remain in the combine. He stated that promise had been made by Secretary Renfrew and other officers of the associated chambers that, with the election of new officers last night, customs and practices to which Glendale objected will be discontinued.

New officers have been chosen from territory lying outside the incorporate limits of Los Angeles city. This was one of the points of objection, the association was more strictly a branch of the Los Angeles chamber than an independent organization. Secretary Renfrew also has promised that the method of financing the organization, placing the burden on the shoulders of Glendale, will be changed so that each city will bear its share.

Mr. Rowley will investigate further and report to the directors. It was the expressed opinion of President D. H. Smith that "in the event Glendale gets a square deal, this city should remain in the associated chambers organization." Burbank is in favor of remaining in the combine, it was said.

Xmas Celebration

A committee composed of Directors Kelly, McKinnon and Landerdale will perfect plans for a Christmas celebration in connection with the huge Christmas tree in the arcade of the Jensen building. The tree was turned over to the chamber by Robert Jensen.

A suggestion by R. E. Johnson, retiring president of the Exchange club, that the parking time limit on Glendale main streets be increased to two hours, was taken under advisement and referred to a committee headed by Arthur Campbell. Director Campbell reported that an investigation showed the present parking law enforcement was working out to the satisfaction of the merchants.

The chamber voted to sponsor a banquet for members of the Glendale High school football teams. The banquet will take place sometime in January. All service clubs will be asked to join in the affair with the chamber of commerce.

Float Prospects

Dr. T. C. Young, head of the New Year's day float financing committee, reported that prospects for winning first prize were bright and that sufficient funds would be raised.

Glendale's participation in the Mulholland drive celebration on December 27 will be left to a committee on arrangements.

A letter from Assemblyman Frank C. Weller to the board, asking for suggestions on legislations to come before the next session of the assembly, was read and filed.

Members of the educational committee of the chamber will attend the joint meeting of the Glendale Union High school board and the Glendale city school board at the Broadway High school tonight, when plans for school expansion will be taken up.

Representatives of the chamber will co-operate with the city in seeking a readjusted assessment for Glendale by the county.

Young People's Society Plan Joy for Kiddies

Fifty Glendale children will be served Christmas dinner and will be given an entertainment by the Young People's department of the Central Christian church, tomorrow night, at 6:30 o'clock, at the church. Fred Leggett, superintendent of the department, is arranging for the affair and the dinner will be prepared and served by women of the church congregation. A Christmas tree from which gifts will be distributed will be a feature and a program will be given. Members of the department will take the children to the church and also see that they get home.

Lockwood, C. S. McKee, J. C. Millikan, Perry Rogers, D. Paul Stuart, F. P. Southworth, Arthur C. Terrill.

The audience last night was not as large as it should have been, due, without doubt, to the inclement weather. Those who braved the possibilities of a downpour were accorded a privilege that is seldom offered in Glendale. The members of the Glendale Music club, and particularly the oratorio section, are to be congratulated upon the success of last night's program.

XMAS STAR TEXT OF CLUB SPEAKER

Miss Rouzee Tells Tuesday Members Facts About Wise Men

Miss Winifred Rouzee, Bible student and lecturer, spoke yesterday afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse under the auspices of the Bible department of the club on "The Christmas Star." Miss Rouzee discussed the constellations in the heavens, stressing the fact that the Orientals used to predict coming events by reading the stars. She told how before the birth of Christ a sign appeared three times in the heavens, and the last time a star appeared to lead the wise men to the manger in Bethlehem.

An interesting point brought out by Miss Rouzee was that the wise men did not reach the manger for three months, contrary to the general belief that they found the Christ Child in swaddling clothes. In their journeying they used the southern cross as a guide. After the lecture tea was served by Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, curator of drama; Mrs. C. C. Cooper, chairman of community service, and Mrs. William F. MacPherson, chairman of conservation.

Glendale Music club, and particularly the oratorio section, are to be congratulated upon the success of last night's program.
